(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Aug. 29.—Gov. Gifford Pinchot today was "more hopeful than ever" that Pennsylvania's relief crisis will be bridged without a special session of the legislature by means of a plan to be discussed at a conference in New York City Thursday or Friday which the Republican and Democratic candidates for governor and their party chairmen were asked to attend.

Details of the plan were held in secrecy by Governor Pinchot, Harry L. Hopkins, federal emergency relief administrator, and Eric H. Biddle, state relief director.

May Avoid Session.
"If we can come to a meeting of minds at the meeting, a special session of the legislature will be avoided," the Governor said at Washington following his conference with Hopkins.

Those invited to attend the New York meeting with Hopkins in addition to the Governor and Biddle were Attorney General William A. Schnader, Republican candidate for governor; M. Harvey Taylor, Republican state chairman; George H. Earle, Democratic candidate for governor; and David Lawrence, Democratic state chairman.

Hopkins said the conference was being held in New York because other business necessitated his presence there. It was believed the meeting will take place Friday.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

Report from the Walpole district this morning is that the thermometer got down to far as 40 degrees during the night, and that a light frost was in evidence early this morning.

Smoke was curling from a lot of residence chimneys in the city last night. It was the earliest in the fall season for many years that temperature got so cool that fire in home heaters was appreciated.

When canning that corn and pickling those cucumbers, remember to set aside a couple jars for the Jameson Memorial hospital. The hospital will be the recipient of food donations in October on two days designated by the Jameson Memorial Aid Society.

According to Pa Newc's calendar: Monday, September 3, is Labor Day; Sunday, September 23, is the first day of autumn.

Canning is occupying the attentions of many housewives just now, and is the principal subject at the club meetings. If all can as much as have two, Pa Newc was listening to last evening, there should be enough filled jars in New Castle to span the length of the Perry highway. An unusually large amount of corn is being "put up" Pa Newc believes.

Most farmers are surprised that the apple crop is as good as it is, one of them tells Pa Newc, after last winter's severe weather. In the

Democratic Leaders Worried Over National Party Effect Of New Victory By Radicals

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—The much-debated question as to how much "left" sentiment there is among the Democratic rank and file of the country seemed pretty well answered today as a result of yesterday's primary elections.

There is a lot of it, California Shock.

Upton Sinclair's easy capture of the Democratic gubernatorial nomination in California and by really impressive figures, gave the old-line conservative Democrats here something of a shock. The erstwhile socialist and radical pamphletor literally walked away from his conservative opposition.

In Mississippi, Ex-Gov. Theodore Bilbo, who promised to "raise more hell than Huey Long" if Mississippi voters sent him to Washington, ran so close behind conservative Senator Hubert D. Stephens that a run-off primary will be necessary.

In South Carolina, Ex-Senator Cole Blease, the Huey Long of his day in the senate, was right on the heels of Olin Johnston for the gubernatorial nomination, which in South Carolina is equivalent to election.

Party Leaders Worried

Studying these figures today, party leaders could not help but be convinced that down where the Democratic tide flows strongest there is an undercurrent of unrest and so-called radicalism that inevitably will make itself felt in the 74th congress to be elected in November.

It was Sinclair's victory in California, however, that they talked most about. Here was a man whose name has been synonymous of radicalism for a quarter of a century, a

Claim Butler Suspect Admits Sharing In Three Springs Holdup

(International News Service)

CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 29.—Addison Mease, 24-year-old Cleveland hoodlum, arrested as a suspect in the sensational $50,000 mail truck robbery at Three Springs, Pa., last Friday, today was alleged to have confessed to participation in a $3,000 bank robbery at Three Springs, Pa.

Pennsylvania police were unable to connect him with the Butler crime, it was said.

Waives Extradition.
According to local detectives, the youth also waived extradition and was immediately taken back to Pennsylvania. Police here would not disclose the time that the Pennsylvania troopers left with their prisoner nor would they reveal the name of the city where Mease was held.

Two suspects arrested with Mease here were released, according to local detectives. However, the confession of Mease preceded by a few hours the capture of another suspect in the robbery in Pennsylvania. With the capture of Mease, Cleveland became a "tough luck" town for Pennsylvania hoodlums hiding out from the law. It was recalled that the notorious Paul Jaworski was shot and captured here and that, more recently, two escaped long-learned convicts from the Pennsylvania state prison were nabbed here.

Second Suspect Held

Butler, Pa., Aug. 29.—Implicated as a participant in the $3,000 bank robbery at Three Springs, Pa., by Addison Mease, Cleveland gang leader, Ralph Nace, another Cleveland, was brought here today for further questioning by state police. Nace was held incommunicado.

Mease, arrested as a suspect in the $50,000 payroll robbery here Friday, was said by state police to have confessed to the Three Springs holdup.

An officer of the Three Springs bank was being brought here today in an effort to identify Nace as one

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Aug. 29.—Gov. Pinchot today declared he intended to investigate thoroughly the disturbances at Graterford and Cherry Hill penitentiaries.

"I am going into the matter thoroughly," the governor said. "I propose to know the facts."

It was revealed that Stanley P. Ashe, warden of Western Penitentiary and chairman of the governor's committee investigating the state's penal system, was to confer with the executive today.

Governor Pinchot would not discuss what steps he intends to take in investigating the riots and strikes at the Eastern Penitentiary and its branch prison.

Inadvertently, the name of Arthur Kohn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Kohn, Moody avenue, was omitted from the list of high school students enrolled for college this fall.

NEW PRISON OUTBREAK IS NOW FEARED

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 29.—Behind the massive graystone walls of Pennsylvania's eastern penitentiary at Cherry Hill lurked the monster of revolt today.

An ominous hull fell over the century-old bastille in the wake of a fresh uprising which was accompanied by the terrifying peril of fire.

Ten gas bombs quelled the new insurrection, but the spirit of unrest, seething within the Cherry Hill fortress and within the new and "model" branch of the prison at Graterford, was not subdued.

At Graterford, 25 miles northwest of here, 1100 embittered convicts, clung stubbornly to their hunger strike.

At Cherry Hill, in the center of Philadelphia, all of the 1273 inmates remained locked in their cells after another violent flareup of mutiny.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 29.—A sensational three-cornered race for the governorship of California was assured today as a result of yesterday's record-breaking primary election.

The November general election will find "left wingers" under Upton Sinclair, of Pasadena, author and former Socialist, locked in vigorous conflict with conservatives under Governor Frank P. Merriam, with Raymond L. Haight, youthful newcomer to political ranks in the middle.

Sinclair Democratic Winner

Sinclair, famous for his "muck raking" novel, swept to victory on the Democratic ticket with a tremendous total that almost doubled the vote tally of his nearest opponent, George Creel, war-time propagandist in the Wilson administration and California NRA administrator in the present Roosevelt regime.

Governor Merriam, heading the Republican ticket, also scored an impressive gain over his opponents, former Governor C. C. Young, John R. Quinn, chairman of the Los Angeles board of supervisors and former national commander of the American Legion.

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Aug. 29.—Gov. Gifford Pinchot today was "more hopeful than ever" that Pennsylvania's relief crisis will be bridged without a special session of the legislature by means of a plan to be discussed at a conference in New York City Thursday or Friday which the Republican and Democratic candidates for governor and their party chairmen were asked to attend.

Details of the plan were held in secrecy by Governor Pinchot, Harry L. Hopkins, federal emergency relief administrator, and Eric H. Biddle, state relief director.

May Avoid Session.
"If we can come to a meeting of minds at the meeting, a special session of the legislature will be avoided," the Governor said at Washington following his conference with Hopkins.

Those invited to attend the New York meeting with Hopkins in addition to the Governor and Biddle were Attorney General William A. Schnader, Republican candidate for governor; H. Harvey Taylor, Republican state chairman; George H. Earle, Democratic candidate for governor; and David Lawrence, Democratic state chairman.

Hopkins said the conference was being held in New York because other business necessitated his absence there. It was believed the meeting will take place Friday.

Democratic Leaders Worried Over National Party Effect Of New Victory By Radicals

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—The much-debated question as to how much "left" sentiment there is among the Democratic rank and file of the country seemed pretty well answered today as a result of yesterday's primary elections. There is a lot of it.

California Shock
Upton Sinclair's easy capture of the Democratic gubernatorial nomination in California, and by really impressive figures, gave the old-line

conservative Democrats here something of a shock. The erstwhile socialist and radical pamphletter literally walked away from his conservative opposition.

In Mississippi, Ex-Gov. Theodore Bilbo, who promised to "raise more hell than Huey Long" if Mississippi voters sent him to Washington, ran close behind conservative Senator Hubert D. Stephens at a run-off primary will be necessary.

In South Carolina, Ex-Senator Cole Blaise, the Huey Long of his day in the senate, was right on the heels of Olin Johnston for the gubernatorial nomination, which in South Carolina is equivalent to election.

Party Leaders Worried
Studying these figures today, party leaders could not help but be convinced that down where the Democratic tide flows strongest there is an undercurrent of unrest and so-called radicalism that inevitably will make itself felt in the 74th congress to be elected in November.

It was Sinclair's victory in California, however, that they talked most about. Here was a man whose name has been symbolical of radicalism for a quarter of a century, a (Continued On Page Two)

Claim Butler Suspect Admits Sharing In Three Springs Holdup

(International News Service)
CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 29.—Addison Mease, 24-year-old Cleveland hoodlum, arrested as a suspect in the sensational $50,000 mail truck robbery at "Butler" Pa. last Friday, today was alleged to have confessed to participation in a $3,000 bank robbery at Three Springs, Pa. Pennsylvania police were unable to connect him with the Butler crime, it was said.

Waives Extradition.
According to local detectives, the youth also waived extradition and was immediately taken back to Pennsylvania. Police here would not disclose the time that the Pennsylvania troopers left with their prisoner nor would they reveal the name of the city where Mease will be jailed.

Two suspects arrested with Mease here were released, according to local detectives. However, the confession of Mease preceded by a few hours the capture of another suspect in the robbery in Pennsylvania.

With the capture of Mease, Cleveland became a "tough luck" town for Pennsylvania hoodlums hiding out from the law. It was revealed that the notorious Paul Jaworski was shot and captured here and that, more recently, two escaped long-term convicts from the Pennsylvania state prison were nabbed here.

Second Suspect Held
Butler, Pa., Aug. 29.—Implicated as a participant in the $3,000 bank robbery at Three Springs, Pa., by Addison Mease, Cleveland gang leader, Ralph Nace, another Cleveland, was brought here today for further questioning by state police.

Nace was held incommunicado. Mease, arrested as a suspect in the $50,000 payroll robbery here Friday, was said by state police to have confessed to the Three Springs holdup.

An officer of the Three Springs bank was being brought here today in an effort to identify Nace as one of the participants in the holdup. (Continued On Page Two)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Belief grew today that Harry L. Hopkins, federal relief administrator, would demand specific assurances that the Pennsylvania legislature next winter will enact new taxes, if necessary, to provide relief funds.

Hopkins, after a conference with Gov. Gifford Pinchot, approved the latter's plan for a conference in New York, probably Friday, to which the Republican and Democratic candidates for governor in Pennsylvania and the two party state chairmen will be invited.

The plan of Pinchot, it was indicated, is to bind these four to use their influence to obtain appropriate relief funds.

British Prince Will Marry Greek Princess; Announcement Made

(International News Service)
LONDON, Aug. 29.—General satisfaction tinged with a feeling of regret that he could not have found an English bride greeted the announcement of the engagement of Prince George, fourth son of the king and queen of England, to Princess Marina, daughter of Prince Nicholas of Greece, which thrilled the hearts of English bachelors today.

The English citizenry eagerly studied the full page photographs of the young woman who is to become a member of the British royal family, and who, until today, was virtually unknown to the British public.

They avidly read the columns of biographical material adjoining and summed it up by saying, "The prince appears to have made a good match. She looks like a good sport."

Typical Modern Girl.
The keynote of editorials is: "She is a typical modern girl who will win the hearts of the British people with her grace and charm." And mingled with some of the editorials there is a guarded but nevertheless evident hint to his oldest brother, the Prince of Wales, that it is about time he followed his brothers into the state of matrimony.

The announcement of the engagement came as a surprise and was contained in the official court circular. (Continued On Page Two)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Personal relationships in the strife-torn NRA have reached such a point where it is considered certain that either Gen. Hugh S. Johnson or Donald R. Richberg, will be compelled to retire before many weeks.

Washington believes that it will be Johnson who will retire, although probably not before the November elections. President Roosevelt is understood to be anxious not to have the NRA blow-off occur in the middle of the campaign.

There have been stormy meetings in the inner circles of the NRA, and some of the temper has been carried directly to the White House. Jealousy, personal pride, and personal animosities have all figured in the situation.

An ominous full moon over the century-old bastille in the wake of a fresh uprising which was accompanied by the terrifying peril of fire.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 29.—A sensational three-cornered race for the governorship of California was assured today as a result of yesterday's record-breaking primary election.

The November general election will find "left wingers" under Upton Sinclair, author and former Socialist, locked in vigorous conflict with conservatives under Governor Frank P. Merriam, with Raymond L. Haight, youthful newcomer to political ranks, in the middle.

Sinclair Democratic Winner
Sinclair, famous for his "muck raking" novels swept to victory on the Democratic ticket with a tremendous total that almost doubled the vote tally of his nearest opponent, George Creel, war-time propagandist in the Wilson administration and California NRA administrator in the present Roosevelt regime.

Governor Merriam, heading the Republican ticket, also scored an impressive coup over his opponents, former Governor C. C. Young, John R. Quinn, chairman of the Los Angeles board of supervisors and former national commander of the American Legion.

GIRL'S MURDER TRIAL STARTS AT CLARION

Faces Charge Of Killing Man

Matrimonial School Correspondence Brought Girl To Man's Home

ILL TREATMENT IS DEFENSE FOR GIRL

(International News Service) CLARION, Pa., Aug. 29.—Trial of Leona Menser, attractive Conshocoon, O., girl, charged with the fatal shooting of John J. Kelly, elderly Fisher farmer, was to begin today in the Clarion county court.

The shooting is alleged to have been the outgrowth of a quarrel between the girl and the man she had hoped to marry.

Correspondence through a matrimonial agency brought the Menser girl to the Kelly farm several months ago. Kelly was said to have prevailed upon the girl to come to his home for a "trial" period with the understanding that if they were suited to each other they would marry.

After two weeks of residence at the Fisher farmhouse, the shooting occurred. Miss Menser said that cruelties and ill treatment at the hands of the farmer had led to a quarrel that preceded the shooting.

By ALFRED TYRHAUER International News Service Staff Correspondent

(Copyright, 1934, by International News Service) Salzburg, Austria, Aug. 29.—"I cannot tell you how happy I am."

Thus, in the traditional time-honored words of a blushing bride-to-be, Princess Marina of Greece today told her friends of her joy over the announcement of her engagement to Prince George, fourth and youngest son of King George and Queen Mary of England.

The 28-year-old princess, long famed as one of the most attractive of European royalties, was the center of avidly questioning and admiring groups when she made her first appearance here since announcement of the betrothal.

"I hope the marriage will take place soon," she said. "It is most likely to be in London."

Meanwhile, regardless of any possible political and dynastic aspects of the betrothal, International News Service learned that it was a case of love at first sight.

Princess Marina and Prince George met in London last winter and fell in love immediately.

Prince George apparently became firmly resolved to marry her without delay, and asked her brother-in-law, Prince Paul, who was a fellow-student in his Oxford University days, to act as intermediary and arrange another meeting.

This was done, and the meeting took place at the Yugoslavian royal palace at Belgrade.

During the past fortnight, the couple has been together constantly, automobiling throughout the countryside and attending Toscanini's concerts here. They also visited former King Alfonso of Spain and his family at Poetschach.

The Prince of Wales and former King George of Greece, among the first to congratulate the couple, are reported to have promised to visit them at Belgrade.

Diplomatic circles report that Princess Marina is an ambitious young woman, harboring ideas of a restoration of the Greek Monarchy.

Ex-King George, however, has frequently said he would refuse to return to the throne, always observing he has a "much better time" as a private citizen than a ruling monarch.

In this connection, it was reported that several leading Greek monarchists have conferred with Princess Marina recently.

CLAIMS VICTORY FOR "NEW DEAL"

(International News Service) PASADENA, Cal., Aug. 29.—

Asserting that his nomination was a "victory for the New Deal," Upton Sinclair prepared today to leave for Washington to confer with President Roosevelt, his supporters announced. Late election returns continued to pile up an enormous majority for him as Democratic nominee for governor of California.

Sinclair probably will leave by plane, a spokesman said. The object of his trip, it was stated, will be to explain his "epic plan" to the President.

prominence by sending the national guard into the recent San Francisco waterfront strike riots and threatening martial law; an "ultra-liberal," Sinclair, who leaped from the Socialist party to the Democratic with his epic (and poverty in California) plan, and Halght, a smooth ex-captain who surprised political observers with the strength of his first major contest.

Sinclair snarled under, besides Creel, Justus Wardell, an old-time Democrat and an original Roosevelt man; Milton K. Young, Los Angeles attorney and loyal Democrat, and a couple of lesser lights.

Governor Merriam Wins Easily Governor Merriam, who took over the helm of the state upon the death of Governor James Rolph Jr., started steadily, rolled up his lead slowly but surely, and finished comfortably.

Sinclair pulled his candidate for lieutenant governor, Sheridan Downey, to victory with him on the Democratic ticket, and caused a terrific stir in legislative ranks with speculation of how his complete slate of state senators and assemblymen would fare.

George J. Hatfield, former United States attorney in San Francisco, won the nomination for lieutenant governor on the Republican ticket.

Halght's slate carried no candidate for lieutenant governor.

Johnson bluntly told the president that he felt there was an effort to force him out of the NRA, and he blamed Richberg.

Richberg, in turn, informed Mr. Roosevelt that Gen. Johnson was suffering from over-wrought nerves, over-work, and that Johnson's suspicions, so far as he was concerned, were entirely unjustified. Richberg intimated that what the General needed was rest and recuperation, away from his daily associations and problems around the NRA.

man whose association with the party is only a matter of months, whose methods of campaigning and political philosophy shocked the conservatives to their marrow. He spread-eagled the field at a time when Democratic registration figures exceeded the Republican in California for the first time in nearly thirty years.

Party leaders, especially those of the conservative stripe, are distinctly worried over Sinclair's victory, and for several reasons. First, they fear the psychological effect of Sinclair's radical doctrines, and the demonstration of their popular appeal. But mostly they fear the effect of his nomination on the party fortunes in November.

Fear National Effect Ordinarily, Democratic national leaders do not give a hoot who captures the gubernatorial nomination in California. It has been so long since California sent a Democrat to the state house at Sacramento that they have rather lost interest.

But this year it is different. The Democrats carried the state for Roosevelt two years ago, and elected 11 out of 20 congressmen. All those congressmen are up for re-election this year. That is what worries the national leaders, for old-line California Democrats have bombarded Washington with warnings that if Sinclair were nominated he might drag the whole ticket down to defeat in November, including, of course, the eleven congressmen. That would be a party blow of no small proportions. Democratic leaders expect to lose some Democratic seats in November, but they don't expect to lose them in blocks of eleven, or anything like that. They managed to extract small comfort from the fact that the total Democratic vote in yesterday's primary was running approximately 10 percent ahead of the total Republican vote.

Pincho's Statement. Upon his return by airplane from the meetings at Washington, the Governor issued a statement which read in part:

"From the beginning I have been hopeful that an extra session could be avoided. I am more hopeful than ever tonight. We ought to know for sure before the end of this week. Under my agreement with Mr. Hopkins I can say nothing about the plan Mr. Biddle and I laid before him. I can only say that I was delighted by his understanding and sympathetic attitude toward problems in Pennsylvania. They are not easy to solve and that he recognized."

Schnader Made Pledge. Extension of invitations to the gubernatorial candidates and party chairmen to attend the meeting recalled a speech by Schnader last August 2 before Republican county chairmen in which he pledged his administration, if elected, to recommend federal agencies for money advanced for relief need during the legislature can meet regularly next January.

He invited Earle to offer a similar pledge but the Democratic candidate ignored the plea. Pointing out that either Schnader or Earle will be Pennsylvania's next governor, Hopkins said the procedure was "perfectly proper." He said: "It's the obvious procedure where both government and legislature are based on the party system, particularly before the legislature is organized."

To Meet Friday

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, Aug. 29.—Republican and Democratic gubernatorial candidates and party chairmen will meet with Gov. Gifford Pinchot and Federal Relief Administrator Harry L. Hopkins at noon Friday in New York City to attempt to settle the winter relief crisis without summoning a special session of the legislature.

Acceptances from both political party camps today assured that the meeting will have a full attendance for consideration of a plan evolved at the Pinchot-Hopkins conferences in Washington yesterday.

"Mr. Earle and I will be there," announced David L. Lawrence, Democratic state chairman upon his arrival in Harrisburg today, at a conference with George H. Earle, the party's gubernatorial nominee.

Governor Pinchot said he was certain that both Mr. Harvey Taylor, Republican chairman, and Attorney General William A. Schnader, Republican nominee for governor, will be present.

The chief executive declined to discuss details of the plan to be examined at the New York meeting, explaining that nothing could be said until after the conference.

Wounded in his left thigh and suffering lacerations of the head, Litzinger was reported in fair condition today.

Although he was accompanied by three fellow convicts in the escape, the exact number of men surrounding today remained a mystery. Some reports said two, while others said three.

According to L. E. Yoder, Everett police chief, only two of the convicts had made their escape into the woods. Prison authorities insisted that four prisoners took part in yesterday's "break", but they could not account for Yoder's statement that only two men were with Litzinger when he was captured.

The Johnstown man, who was sentenced in 1932 to serve from 10 to 30 years in Rockview for murder, was taken into custody when he surrendered to Wicker after being wounded.

Spotted Convicts' Car. Wicker reported that he spotted the convicts' car last night at Breezewood, nine miles east of Everett. He said that there were but three men in the machine when he saw it and gave chase.

Pursuing the escaped prisoners Wicker followed the car through Everett and on to a point three miles to the west. His shooting apparently unnerved the driver of the machine, for he suddenly lost control of the car. It struck a fence to the right side of the road and ended up in the ditch.

According to Wicker, three men left the machine and made for the woods at the side of the road. Litzinger was shot and captured. The others fled for the cover of the woods, where they were still hiding out today.

Four In Escape.

The four prisoners escaped from Rockview state penitentiary yesterday afternoon in a prison official's automobile.

They took the car from the prison garage, cut through the barbed wire of the prison enclosure and drove off.

The quartet had told garage attendants that they had been sent to paint the initials of H. P. Kelly, the prison official, on the door of the car, a four-door sedan.

In addition to Litzinger, those who made good their escape in the car were:

William Buck, 31, Cambria county, sentenced in 1931 for a five to ten-year term for robbery and receiving stolen goods.

Ralph Manning, 28, Allegheny county, same sentence and charge as Buck. He was sentenced in 1934.

David Prosser, 26, Mercer county, sentenced in 1932 to four to eight years for breaking and entering and felonious assault and battery.

Litzinger was sentenced in 1932 to a 10-to-30 year term for murder.

Their escape was discovered within a few minutes, and state police were notified.

of the men who participated in the robbery.

According to Corp. Casper Otfedahl of the Pennsylvania state police, Nace was implicated in the robbery by the confession of Addison Mease, alleged Cleveland gang leader, who assertedly confessed to participating in the Three Springs holdup.

Brought to the barracks here and grilled after his arrest last night in Luzerne, Indiana County, a mining town outside of Indiana, Pa., by Sergeant Edward Bergan and Privates Steiner and Abbott of Punxsutawney detail, Nace claimed that he was in Pittsburgh at the time of the holdup, Otfedahl said.

Otfedahl said that he received the first tip on where Nace might be located and relayed his information to Punxsutawney sub-station. The three officers who made the arrest hurried to the mining village dwelling where Nace was reported to have been visiting but found that he was not there. They waited.

Three hours passed, then Nace appeared, was immediately placed under arrest and hurried to Butler Barracks. No charges were lodged against him pending outcome of investigations.

GIRL'S MURDER TRIAL STARTS AT CLARION

Faces Charge Of Killing Man

Matrimonial School Correspondence Brought Girl To Man's Home

ILL TREATMENT IS DEFENSE FOR GIRL

(International News Service) CLARION, Pa., Aug. 29.—Trial of Leona Menser, attractive Conshohocken, O., girl, charged with the fatal shooting of John J. Kelly, elderly farmer, was to begin today in the Clarion county court.

The shooting is alleged to have been the outgrowth of a quarrel between the girl and the man she had hoped to marry.

Correspondent through a matrimonial agency brought the Menser girl to the Kelly farm several months ago. Kelly was said to have prevailed upon the girl to come to his home for a "trial" period with the understanding that if they were suited to each other they would marry.

After two weeks of residence at the Fisher farmhouse, the shooting occurred. Miss Menser said that cruelities and ill treatment at the hands of the farmer had led to a quarrel that preceded the shooting.

BRITISH PRINCE WILL MARRY GREEK PRINCESS, ANNOUNCEMENT MADE

cular usually devoted to routine assignments of the royal household. It read:

"It is with great pleasure that the king and queen announce the betrothal of their dearly beloved son, the Prince George, to the Princess Marina, daughter of the Prince and Princess Nicholas of Greece, to which union the king has gladly given his consent."

Prince George's annuity of 10,000 pounds will be increased to 25,000 pounds (about $126,250) upon his marriage.

By ALFRED TYRNER, International News Service Staff Correspondent

(Copyright, 1934, By International News Service) Salzburg, Austria, Aug. 29.—"I cannot tell you how happy I am." Thus, in the traditional time-honored words of a blushing bride-to-be, Princess Marina of Greece today told her friends of her joy over the announcement of her engagement to Prince George, fourth and youngest son of King George and Queen Mary of England.

The 28-year-old princess, long famed as one of the most attractive of European royalties, was the center of avid questioning and admiring groups when she made her first appearance here since announcement of the betrothal.

"I hope the marriage will take place soon," she said. "It is most likely to be in London."

Meanwhile, regardless of any possible political and dynastic aspects of the betrothal, International News Service learned that it was a case of love at first sight.

Princess Marina and Prince George met in London last winter and fell in love immediately.

Prince George apparently became firmly resolved to marry her without delay, and asked her brother-in-law, Prince Paul, who was a fellow-student in his Oxford University days, to act as intermediary and arrange another meeting.

This was done, and the meeting took place at the Yugoslavian royal palace at Bled.

During the past fortnight, the couple has been together constantly, automobiling throughout the countryside and attending Toscanini's concerts here. They also visited former King Alfonso of Spain and his family at Poetscho.

The Prince of Wales and former King George of Greece, among the first to congratulate the couple, are reported to have promised to visit them at Bled.

Diplomatic circles report that Princess Marina is an ambitious young woman, harboring ideas of a restoration of the Greek monarchy.

Ex-King George, however, has frequently said he would refuse to recognize the throne, always observing he has a "much better time" as a private citizen than a ruling monarch.

In this connection, it was reported that several leading Greek monarchists have conferred with Princess Marina recently.

SINCLAIR WINS PRIMARY RACE IN CALIFORNIA

erican Legion, and Haight, one-time California state corporation commissioner.

Haight goes into the November finals by virtue of the fact that he also ran on the Progressive and Commonwealth tickets and automatically becomes their candidate.

Johnson Wins

At the same time another smashing victory stood out in the primary—the virtual election of the veteran United States Senator Hiram Johnson.

He overwhelmed opponents on four tickets—Democratic, Republican, Progressive and Commonwealth—and will face only the nominal opposition of George R. Kirkpatrick, a Socialist, in November.

One of the strangest political pictures in California history is the result of the lineup—an ultra-conservative, Merriam, who leaped into prominence by sending the national guard into the recent San Francisco waterfront strike riots and threatening martial law; an "ultra liberal" Sinclair, who leaped from the Socialist party to the Democratic with his epic (end poverty in California) plan; and Haight, a smooth campaigner who surprised political observers with the strength of his first major contest.

Sinclair snowed under, besides Creel, Justus Wardell, an old-time Democrat and an original Roosevelt man; Milton K. Young, Los Angeles attorney and loyal Democrat, and a couple of lesser lights.

Governor Merriam Wins Easily

Governor Merriam, who took over the helm of the ship of state upon the death of Governor James Rolph, Jr., started steady, rolled up his lead slowly but surely, and finished comfortably.

Sinclair pulled his candidate for lieutenant governor, Sheridan Downey, to victory with him on the Democratic ticket, and caused a terrific stir in legislative ranks with speculation of how his complete slate of state senators and assemblymen would fare.

George J. Hatfield, former United States attorney in San Francisco, won the nomination for lieutenant governor on the Republican ticket.

Haight's slate carried no candidate for lieutenant governor.

veld did not see Johnson or Richberg together. The situation was too explosive. However, he saw them both separately on a number of occasions, and from each he obtained the story of growing NRA dissension and intrigue.

Johnson bluntly told the president that he felt there was an effort to force him out of the NRA, and he blamed Richberg.

Richberg, in turn, informed Mr. Roosevelt that Gen. Johnson was suffering from over-work, nerves, over-work, and that Johnson's suspicions, so far as he was concerned, were entirely unfounded.

Richberg intimated that what the General needed was rest and recuperation, away from his daily associations and problems around the NRA.

sections of New Castle, that of Falls street with North Mill, is without a stop sign Pa. News noted Tuesday. If Pa. remembers rightly there was a sign there at one time. But it isn't there now.

It is doubtful if two prominent local business men will spend their next year's vacation in the same spot they were located this year. Encompassed on a small island out in a lake at Buckhorn, Ontario, Canada, they kept company with three goats belonging to the farmer who owned the island. One night one of the goats disappeared, and the two local men had to leave under a cloud of suspicion. Returning home, they got lost from each other in Toronto, and did not find each other for hours, returning home late as a consequence.

If there are any medals for elvish pride passed around, one of them is due Harry A. Kelly, of 122 Kelly street. One of Mr. Kelly's hobbies, is keeping the street and surroundings of his home in spice and span shape, neighbors state, and he has worked hard all summer to keep the roadway in front of his home looking like the driveway through some private estate. If a prize was to be offered for such work, the residents in that vicinity are willing to nominate and elect him for first honors.

DEMOCRATIC LEADERS ARE WORRIED OVER VICTORY BY RADICALS

man whose association with the party is only a matter of months, whose methods of campaigning and political philosophy shocked the conservatives to their marrow. He spread-eagled the field at a time when Democratic registration figures exceeded the Republican in California for the first time in nearly thirty years.

Party leaders, especially those of the conservative stripe, are distinctly worried over Sinclair's victory, and for several reasons. First, they fear the psychological effect of Sinclair's radical doctrines, and the demonstration of their popular appeal. But mostly they fear the effect of his nomination on the party fortunes in November.

Fear National Effect

Ordinarily, Democratic national leaders do not give a hoot who captures the gubernatorial nomination in California. It has been so long since California sent a Democrat to the state house at Sacramento that they have rather lost interest.

But this year it is different. The Democrats carried the state for Roosevelt two years ago, and elected 11 out of 20 congressmen. All those congressmen are up for re-election this year. That is what worries the national leaders, for old-line California Democrats have bombarded Washington with warnings that if Sinclair were nominated he might drag the whole ticket down to defeat in November, including, of course, the eleven congressmen. That would be a party blow of no small proportions. Democratic leaders expect to lose some Democratic seats in November, but they don't expect to lose them in blocks of eleven, or anything like that. They managed to extract small comfort from the fact that the total Democratic vote in yesterday's primary was running approximately 10 percent ahead of the total Republican vote.

MARRIAGE DISSOLVED

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Aug. 29.—First cousins are prevented by an act of assembly from legally marrying in Pennsylvania, according to a ruling by Judge Norman T. Boose on file here today.

Judge Boose, in dissolving the 11-year-marriage of Michael and Sadie Bapa, held their marriage was contrary to a state law adopted in June, 1901. Bapa brought suit for divorce on the ground of illegality.

PINCHOT HOPEFUL SPECIAL SESSION CAN BE AVOIDED

cause Schnader and Taylor were expected to speak at the Grangers picnic at Williams Grove, near here, tomorrow when the Republican campaign will be formally launched.

Pincho's Statement

Upon his return by airplane from the meetings at Washington, the Governor issued a statement which read in part:

"From the beginning I have been hopeful that an extra session could be avoided. I am more hopeful than ever tonight. We ought to know for sure before the end of this week."

"Under my agreement with Mr. Hopkins I can say nothing about the plan Mr. Biddle and I laid before him. I can only say that I was delighted by his understanding and sympathetic attitude toward problems in Pennsylvania. They are not easy to solve and that he recognized."

Schnader Made Pledge

Extension of invitations to the gubernatorial candidates and party chairmen to attend the meeting called a speech by Schnader last August 2 before Republican county chairmen in which he pledged his administration, if elected, to recommend federal agencies for money advanced for relief needs until the legislature can meet regularly next January.

He invited Earle to offer a similar pledge but the Democratic candidate ignored the plea.

Pointing out that either Schnader or Earle will be Pennsylvania's next governor, Hopkins said the procedure was "perfectly proper."

He said: "It's the obvious procedure where both government and legislature are based on the party system, particularly before the legislature is organized."

To Meet Friday

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, Aug. 29.—Republican and Democratic gubernatorial candidates and party chairmen will meet with Gov. Gifford Pinchot and Federal Relief Administrator Harry L. Hopkins at noon Friday in New York City to attempt to settle the state's relief crisis without summoning a special session of the legislature.

Acceptances from both political party camps today assured that the meeting will have a full attendance for consideration of a plan evolved at the Pinchot-Hopkins conferences in Washington yesterday.

"Mr. Earle and I will be there," announced David L. Lawrence, Democratic state chairman upon his arrival in Harrisburg today after a conference with George H. Earle, the party's gubernatorial nominee.

Governor Pinchot said he was certain that both Mr. Harvey Taylor, Republican chairman, and Attorney General William A. Schnader, Republican nominee for governor, will be present.

The chief executive declined to discuss details of the plan to be examined at the New York meeting, explaining that nothing could be said until after the conference.

Matrimonial School Correspondence Brought Girl To Man's Home

ILL TREATMENT IS DEFENSE FOR GIRL

(International News Service) CLARION, Pa., Aug. 29.—Trial of Leona Menser, attractive Conshohocken, O., girl, charged with the fatal shooting of John J. Kelly, elderly Fisher farmer, was to begin today in the Clarion county court.

The shooting is alleged to have been the outgrowth of a quarrel between the girl and the man she had hoped to marry.

Correspondent through a matrimonial agency brought the Menser girl to the Kelly farm several months ago. Kelly was said to have prevailed upon the girl to come to his home for a "trial" period with the understanding that if they were suited to each other they would marry.

After two weeks of residence at the Fisher farmhouse, the shooting occurred. Miss Menser said that cruelties and ill treatment at the hands of the farmer had led to a quarrel that preceded the shooting.

BRITISH PRINCE WILL MARRY GREEK PRINCESS, ANNOUNCEMENT MADE

"It is with great pleasure that the king and queen announce the betrothal of their dearly beloved son, the Prince George, to the Princess Marina, daughter of the Prince and Princess Nicholas of Greece, to which union the king has gladly given his consent."

Prince George's annuity of 10,000 pounds will be increased to 25,000 pounds (about $126,250) upon his marriage.

Mdzbuz, Austria, Aug. 29.—"I cannot tell you how happy I am." Thus, in the traditional time-honored words of a blushing bride-to-be, Princess Marina of Greece today told her friends of her joy over the announcement of her engagement to Prince George, fourth and youngest son of King George and Queen Mary of England.

The 28-year-old princess, long famed as one of the most attractive of European royalties, was the center of avidly questioning and admiring groups when she made her first appearance here since announcement of the betrothal.

"I hope the marriage will take place soon," she said. "It is most likely to be in London."

Meanwhile, regardless of any possible political and dynastic aspects of the betrothal, International News Service learned that it was a case of love at first sight.

Princess Marina and Prince George met in London last winter and fell in love immediately.

Prince George apparently became firmly resolved to marry her without delay, and asked her brother-in-law, Prince Paul, who was a fellow student at the Oxford University days, to act as intermediary and arrange another meeting.

This was done, and the meeting took place at the Yugoslavian royal palace at Bled.

During the past fortnight, the couple has been together constantly, automobiling throughout the countryside and attending Toscanini's concert here. They also visited former King Alfonso of Spain and his family at Poetschach.

The Prince of Wales and former King George of Greece, among the first to congratulate the couple, are reported to have promised to visit them at Bled.

Diplomatic circles report that Princess Marina is an ambitious young woman, harboring ideas of a restoration of the Greek Monarchy.

Ex-King George, however, has frequently said he would refuse to return to the throne, always observing he has a much better time "as a private citizen than a ruling monarch."

In this connection, it was reported that several leading Greek monarchists have conferred with Princess Marina recently.

SINCLAIR WINS PRIMARY RACE IN CALIFORNIA

Haight goes into the November final by virtue of the fact that he also ran on the Progressive and Commonwealth tickets and automatically becomes their candidate.

Johnson Wins
At the same time another smashing victory stood out in the primary—the virtual election of the veteran United States Senator Hiram Johnson. He overwhelmed opponents on four tickets—Democratic, Republican, Progressive and Commonwealth—and will face only the nominal opposition of George R. Kirkpatrick, a Socialist, in November.

One of the strangest political pictures in California history is the result of the lineup—an ultra-conservative, Merriam, who leaped into prominence by sending the national guard into the recent San Francisco waterfront strike riots and threatening martial law; an "ultra-liberal" Sinclair who stepped from the Socialist party to the Democratic with his epic (and poverty in California) plan; and Haight, a smooth campaigner who surprised political observers with the strength of his first major contest.

Sinclair snowed under, besides Greel, Justus Wardell, an old-time Democrat, and an original Roosevelt man, Milton K. Young, Los Angeles attorney and loyal Democrat, and a couple of lesser lights.

Governor Merriam Wins Easily
Governor Merriam, who took over the helm of the ship of state upon the death of Governor James Rolph, Jr., started steady, rolled up his lead slowly but surely, and finished comfortably.

Sinclair pulled his candidate for lieutenant governor, Sheridan Downey, to victory with him on the Democratic ticket, and caused a terrific stir in legislative ranks with speculation of how his complete slate of state senators and assemblymen would fare.

George J. Hatfield, former United States attorney in San Francisco, won the nomination for lieutenant governor on the Republican ticket. Haight's slate carried no candidate for lieutenant governor.

BELIEVE JOHNSON WILL STEP DOWN FROM NRA DUTIES

vett did not see Johnson or Richberg together. The situation was too explosive. However, he saw them both separately on a number of occasions, and from each he obtained the story of growing NRA dissension and intrigue.

Johnson bluntly told the president that he felt there was an effort to force him out of the NRA, and he blamed Richberg.

Richberg, in turn, informed Mr. Roosevelt that Gen. Johnson was suffering from over-work, over-nerves, over-work, and that Johnson's predictions, so far as he was concerned, were entirely unjustified. Richberg intimated that what the General needed was rest and recuperation, away from his daily associations and problems around the NRA.

sections of New Castle, that of Falls street with North Mill, is without a stop sign. Pa. News noted Tuesday. If Pa. remembers rightly there was a sign there at one time. But it isn't there now.

It is doubtful if two prominent local business men will spend their next year's vacation in the same spot they were located this year. Encamped on a small island out in a lake at Buckhorn, Ontario, Canada, they kept company with three goats belonging to the farmer who owned the island. One night one of the goats disappeared, and the two local men had to leave under a cloud of suspicion. Returning home, they got lost from each other in Toronto, and did not find each other for hours, returning home late as a consequence.

If there are any medals for civic pride passed around, one of them is due Harry A. Kelly, of 122 Quest street. One of Mr. Kelly's hobbies, is keeping the street and surroundings of his home in spick and span shape, neighbors state, and he has worked hard all summer to keep the roadway in front of his home looking like the driveway through some private estate. If a prize was to be offered for such work, the residents in that vicinity are willing to nominate and elect him for first honors.

A Wright whirlwind motored plane circled over the city this morning, a visitor to the New Castle airport.

DEMOCRATIC LEADERS ARE WORRIED OVER VICTORY BY RADICALS

man whose association with the party is only a matter of months, whose methods of campaigning and political philosophy shocked the conservative leaders. He spread-eagled the field at a time when Democratic registration figures exceeded the Republican in California for the first time in nearly thirty years.

Party leaders, especially those of the conservative stripe, are distinctly worried over Sinclair's victory, and for several reasons. First, they fear the psychological effect of Sinclair's radical doctrines, and the demonstration of their popular appeal. But mostly they fear the effect of his nomination on the party fortunes in November.

Fear National Effect
Ordinarily, Democratic national leaders do not give a hoot who captures the gubernatorial nomination in California. It has been so long since California sent a Democrat to the state house at Sacramento that they have rather lost interest.

But this year it is different. The Democrats carried the state for Roosevelt two years ago, and elected 11 out of 20 congressmen. All those congressmen are up for re-election this year. That is what worries the national leaders, for old-line California Democrats have bombarded Washington with warnings that if Sinclair were nominated he might drag the whole ticket down to defeat in November, including, of course, the eleven congressmen. That would be a party blow of no small proportions. Democratic leaders expect to lose some Democratic seats in November, but they don't expect to lose them in blocks of eleven, or anything like that. They managed to extract small comfort from the fact that the total Democratic vote in yesterday's primary was running approximately 10 percent ahead of the total Republican vote.

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Aug. 29.—First cousins are prevented by an act of assembly from legally marrying in Pennsylvania, according to a ruling by Judge Norman T. Boose on file here today.

Judge Boose, in dissolving the 11-year marriage of Michael and Sadie Bapa, held their marriage was contrary to a state law adopted in June, 1901. Bapa brought suit for divorce on the ground of illegality.

PINCHOT HOPEFUL SPECIAL SESSION CAN BE AVOIDED

cause Schnader and Taylor were expected to speak at the Grangers picnic at Williams Grove, near Harrisburg, when the Republican campaign will be formally launched.

Pinchot's Statement.
Upon his return by airplane from the meetings at Washington, the Governor issued a statement which read in part:

"From the beginning I have been hopeful that an extra session could be avoided. I am more hopeful than ever tonight. We ought to know for sure before the end of this week."

"Under my agreement with Mr. Hopkins I can say nothing about the plan Mr. Biddle and I laid before him. I can only say that I was delighted by his understanding and sympathetic attitude toward problems in Pennsylvania. They are not easy to solve and that he recognized."

Schnader Made Pledge.
Extension of invitations to the gubernatorial candidates and party chairmen to attend the meeting recalled a speech by Schnader. Mr. August 2 before Republican county chairmen in which he pledged his administration, if elected, to recompense federal agencies for money advanced for relief needs until the legislature can meet regularly next January. He invited Earle to offer a similar pledge but the Democratic candidate ignored the plea.

Pointing out that either Schnader or Earle will be Pennsylvania's next governor, Hopkins said the procedure was "perfectly proper." He said: "It's the obvious procedure where both government and legislature are based on the party system, particularly before the legislature is organized."

To Meet Friday
(International News Service) HARRISBURG, Aug. 29.—Republican and Democratic gubernatorial candidates and party chairmen will meet with Gov. Gifford Pinchot and Federal Relief Administrator Harry L. Hopkins at noon Friday in New York City to attempt to settle the state's relief crisis without summoning a special session of the legislature.

Acceptances from both political party camps today assured that meeting will have a full attendance for consideration of a plan evolved at the Pinchot-Hopkins conferences in Washington yesterday.

"Mr. Earle and I will be there," announced David L. Lawrence, Democratic state chairman, upon his arrival in Harrisburg today after a conference with George H. Earle, the party's gubernatorial nominee.

Governor Pinchot said he was certain that both Mr. Harry Taylor, Republican chairman, and Attorney General William A. Schnader, Republican nominee for governor, will be present.

The chief executive declined to discuss details of the plan to be examined at the New York meeting, explaining that nothing could be said until after the conference.

ONE OF ROCKVIEW FUGITIVES TAKEN AFTER BEING SHOT

fled from Rockview penitentiary yesterday were believed near capture early today by state police.

Surrounded in a wooded section three miles west of the Lincoln highway at Everett, the convicts were battling it out with authorities after one of their number had been wounded and captured.

One Wounded; Retaken.
Charles Litzinger, 29, of Johnstown, one of the quartet of prisoners who escaped, was in Timmons hospital here today after being shot and captured by Highway Patrolman M. J. Wicker last night.

Wounded in his left thigh and suffering lacerations of the head, Litzinger was reported in fair condition today.

Although he was accompanied by three fellow convicts in the escape, the exact number of men surrounded today remained a mystery. Some reports said two, while others said three.

According to L. E. Yoder, Everett police chief, only two of the convicts had made their escape into the woods. Prison authorities insisted that four prisoners took part in yesterday's "break," but they could not account for Yoder's statement that only two men were with Litzinger when he was captured.

The Johnstown man, who was sentenced in 1922 to serve from 10 to 30 years in Rockview for murder, was taken into custody when he surrendered to Wicker after being wounded.

Spotted Convicts' Car.
Wicker reported that he spotted the convicts' car last night at Breeze-wood, nine miles east of Everett. He said that there were but three men in the machine when he saw it and gave chase.

Pursuing the escaped prisoners Wicker followed the car through Everett and on to a point three miles to the west. His shooting apparently unnerved the driver of the machine, for he suddenly lost control of the car. It struck a fence to the right side of the road and ended up in the ditch.

According to Wicker, three men left the machine and made for the woods at the side of the road. Litzinger was shot and captured. The others fled for the cover of the woods, where they were still hiding out today.

Four In Escape.
The four prisoners escaped from Rockview state penitentiary yesterday afternoon in a prison official's automobile.

They took the car from the prison garage, cut through the barbed wire of the prison enclosure and drove off.

The quartet had told garage attendants that they had been sent to paint the initials of H. P. Kelly, the prison official, on the door of the car, a four-door sedan.

In addition to Litzinger, those who made good their escape in the car were:

William Buck 31, Cambria county, sentenced in 1931 for a five to ten-year term for robbery and receiving stolen goods.

Ralph Manning, 28, Allegheny county, same sentence and charge as Buck. He was sentenced in 1924.

David Prosser, 26, Mercer county, sentenced in 1932 to four to eight years for breaking and entering and felonious assault and battery.

Litzinger was sentenced in 1932 to a 10-to-30 year term for murder. Their escape was discovered within a few minutes, and state police were notified.

SAYS BUTLER SUSPECT ADMITS SHARING IN THREE SPRINGS CRIME

of the men who participated in the robbery.

According to Corp. Casper O'Connell of the Pennsylvania state police, Nace was implicated in the robbery by the confession of Addison, alleged Cleveland gang leader, who assertedly confessed to participating in the Three Springs holdup.

Brought to the barracks here and grilled after his arrest last night in Lawrence, Indiana County, a mining town outside of Indiana, Pa., by Sergeant Edward Began and Privates Steiner and Abbott of Punxsutawney detail, Nace claimed that he was in Pittsburgh at the time of the holdup, O'Connell said.

O'Connell said that he received the first tip on where Nace might be located and relayed his information to Punxsutawney sub-station. The three officers who made the arrest hurried to the mining village dwelling where Nace was reported to have been visiting but found that he was not there. They waited.

Three hours passed when Nace appeared, was immediately placed under arrest and hurried to Butler Barracks. No charges were lodged against him pending outcome of investigations.

COLD WEATHER RECORDS FALL

ing Pittsburgh today the coldest August 29 in 43 years; light frost over scattered parts of the South Hills district.

Not satisfied with this, these symbols of the cold months aim to stay over and again put their tools to use. This is seen in a forecast of Observer W. S. Brotzman who predicts even lower temperatures tonight on the basis of a low pressure wave moving in this direction from the west.

A few topeaks made their appearance this morning and an appeal for overcoats for destitute men was sent out by a local welfare agency.

SMITH-STONE WEDDING NEAR REYNOLDSVILLE

On the spacious porch, transformed into a garden of beauty with summer blooms, at her country home near Reynoldsville, Pa., the wedding of Miss Martha Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Smith, to Henry C. Stone, son of George C. Stone of the Wilmington road, took place Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock.

The porch overlooks rolling hills, roundabout, and was a beautiful setting for the ceremony which was performed in the presence of some 45 or 50 guests, by the Rev. Clarence Thompson, pastor of the Beechwood Presbyterian church.

The bride was costumed in sheer white embroidered organdie, made long, and distinguished with frilled sleeves. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley.

Miss Eleanor Smith, gowned in sky blue organdie, made similarly to the bride's, was her sister's maid of honor. She carried an arm bouquet of Briarcliff roses. George Murphy of Bradford, Pa., was best man. Little nieces of the bride, Jean Smith and Martha Foster, were flower girls, and the ring bearer was a nephew, Donald Smith.

Preceding the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Smith, the former a brother, sang "O Promise Me" accompanied by Mrs. Vaughn Foster, who played the wedding march and a program of nuptial melodies.

Luncheon was served at several small tables indoors, centered with miniature brides and grooms.

Mr. and Mrs. Stone departed for a honeymoon through the New England states and Canada, concluding which, they will reside at Gary, Ind.

Mrs. Stone is a graduate of Clarion State Teachers college and of Penn State. For the past six years she has been an instructor in the New Castle senior high school.

CORN ROAST PROVES DELIGHTFUL EVENT

Dr. Henry Sloan, Dr. H. Botwin, H. Ruzewicz, T. Frank and H. Grossman really excelled themselves as hosts Tuesday evening when they planned the most delightful corn and wiener roast for the members of the Cosmo club and their ladies at Lakewood beach.

The evening was a little chilly, but the "hot dogs" with the "roasting ears" proved warming, and then the group danced throughout the evening, thus ignoring any chilliness the weather man offered.

CALENDAR REFORM

PERHAPS if societies for calendar reform could get together on some practical and trouble-proof plan that would be a substantial improvement on the Gregorian calendar something would be done about it by the powers that be and with the consent and approval of all concerned, and everybody is concerned.

These societies are all at white heat in their earnestness and all agree that drastic things ought to be done about our bungling old calendar which, it appears is so irregular, inexact and confusing as to make life almost unbearable. But there consonance ends. Each has a different scheme of reform and all other schemes are wrong, fatally wrong.

Calendar reform becomes a popular issue with the rank and file only when the reformers talk of increasing the number of monthly or semi-monthly pay days in the year, and it loses this popularity when the tenant foresees that it would also increase the number of rent days and when the debtor is advised that the traditional 30 days would be reduced to 28.

Calendar reform would take the world by storm if it promised to obliterate the first of the month, abolish blue Mondays, do away with the day after holidays elongate the vacation and multiply the number of paydays while subtracting bill days.

NO "SATURATION" POINT

When the automobile was considered a public nuisance rather than a means of transportation and a source of employment and enjoyment for millions, roads were built purposely with S curves to discourage speeding. Highway engineers and officials preached the dangers of making roads accident-proof.

Contrast this with the latest promise by the highway engineers of highways built for safe driving at 100 miles per hour. Society and government improve their judgment with the years.

The era of hard-surface highway construction in the United States did not begin so long ago that this generation has ceased wondering at the curves barked the wrong way which were universal a decade ago and on which one can still skid in many states. Motorists often ask themselves if there were engineers in those days.

"Trunk highways" built a bare dozen years ago with an eye to traffic's future needs are already hopelessly inadequate both as to width and construction. The motor vehicle has kept years ahead of the roads upon which it travels.

How often one has heard and read that a certain highway would relieve existing traffic congestion and take care of the traffic increase for years to come and found waiting for the opening of that new highway a volume of traffic far beyond its capacity.

IMPROVEMENT IN ENGLAND

It has been a long time since England has enjoyed any degree of prosperity, so her people are justified in waxing jubilant over a 7 per cent increase in exports this year over 1933. Economic gains of such proportions are events of considerable importance in that country.

Depression hit the British Isles during the war and it is only now taking a reluctant leave. Never did a love-sick swain prolong his parting more.

The British ascribe their better foreign market to the reciprocal tariff treaties and high import duties, but are not counting on these to carry it the rest of the way back to complete recovery. The economists of that country agree that the domestic market must take up the slack left by foreign markets lost forever.

The British Isles have an economic problem second to none in the world and if they can work their way out to the point where the last name may be stricken from the dole lists the rest of the world would do well to send commissions to London to find out how it was done. It is not easy for a land with little capacity for producing raw materials but great capacity for turning out the finished product to enjoy national prosperity while buying much and selling little.

PA AND MA GOVERNMENT REBUFFED

The Texas Fergusons, Pa and Ma, must feel like the man who after being kicked downstairs three times tardily concluded he was not wanted above, surmises the Cleveland Plain Dealer. For the dynasty of the domestic appears at last washed up and out of business. For this the land of the long horns doubtless breathes a deep sigh of relief.

Pa being disqualified from running, and Ma tired of political operations she never understood, the two decided to step out in favor of another who could be trusted to carry out the Pa-Ma policies. So in the July primary the Fergusons put all they had behind the gubernatorial candidacy of C. C. McDonald. He ran third.

Saturday came the second primary, made necessary under Texas law because no candidate received a majority in July. For this second contest Pa and Ma turned their support over to Tom F. Hunter. Hunter loses. A July rebuff; an August rebuff; indeed, the Fergusons are through.

Texas' next governor will be James V. Allred, now attorney general. The Fergusons will have to send in a card if they wish to speak to the chief executive.

REPUBLICANS SHOW GAINS

Republican sentiment judged by the recent Kentucky, West Virginia and Missouri and Kansas primaries is on the increase.

For instance in the seventh and ninth Kentucky districts Republican voters forged far ahead of their opponents. The seventh recorded 21,802 Republican votes for a Republican representative to Congress against a Democrat turnout of 16,260. In the ninth the Republicans swept every before them with a vote of 68,209 to 5,376 Democrats. In West Virginia, Glen Chaver, former chairman of the Democratic committee, candidate for nomination for U. S. Senator, who James G. Farley, silently supported, lost out.

The activities of young Republicans are generally credited with the Republican party advancement. In Pennsylvania, which did not stray from the Republican fold during the Roosevelt landslide, young Republicans are active also, with as good or better results expected.

restful.

There is a restful green, here is glowing color. Beneath the old apple tree a bed of gallant nasturtiums spread flower and reach up through the dappled shadow to the sun, while close to them bends the tree carrying its burden of ripening apples proudly. The butterflies hover over the butterfly bush, and the blue flowers are lifted high in the air and sway slowly in the summer breeze. There are marigolds over there in that corner where the sun shines so warmly, and here in this damp place a few ferns grow. A rose climbs boldly up the side of the house and looks down in quiet condescension to the rose that stands so straight below and has no climbing ways but bears a nobler flower.

The iris are resting now. They bloomed before any of these others and were the heralds of the spring. The pansies make no fuss and go serenely about their business of creating yellow and purple beauty. Birds sing in the sunlight in the mellow moon rays.

The garden is a lovely place, quite perfect in its unassuming splendor. Beneath this quiet is unending struggle. The tree takes the sunlight from the flowers beneath. The apple tree and with its leaves. The slimy slug haunts the shaded places. The slow and ruthless snail climbs the delphinium plants and eats away its tender leaves. The gopher tunnels his way to the roots of tender plants and pulls them below to devour in the darkness of the earth. The merciless mole pursues his hidden ways. The innumerable ants march unrelentingly across the terrain of this green place. A blue jay comes and ravages a nest with all its tender young. A cat, slinks by and crouches, writhes and pounces. Beneath this shifting pattern of sunlight green are struggle and terror and ruthless competition.

And yet, beauty is there. Sharp teeth, steel claws, ravenous hunger, selfish intention, these exist in the garden as they exist elsewhere, but nevertheless beauty is there in the garden too, and may not, must not, be denied.

JUST A DOG
You can kick him, you can abuse him and say all manner of evil words when he ruins your flower beds, but he remains "man's best friend."

Searching through the night for a lost child, Marie Ann Gauthier, aged six, two hundred years old, had a thick break in the thick woods near Three Rivers, Quebec, without a sign of the missing girl. Some one heard a dog bark, and the searchers were asked to be quiet and listen. The baying was barely audible, but the group started in the direction from which the sound came. They found the dog beside a little pile of brushwood, on top of which lay a bundle. The bundle was little Marie, wrapped up in her coat asleep on the brush she had gathered for her bed. Her faithful dog had been with her all night.

In nearly every group there are good-looking, well-dressed young fellows who try to avoid paying their share of entertainment expenses. They are adepts in avoiding the subject when pay-time arrives.

They will tell a good story with great zest when matters of a financial nature come up.

If cornered they are not at all abashed to admit that they are unable to pay an assessment.

You'll often hear their threadbare statements to some other fellow in the crowd: "You pay for me and I'll pay you in a day or two."

These fellows don't seem to have any pride.

They never make an effort to pay their relative share until pressure is brought on them.

In fact some create the impression that their society should be amply paid for by some debt they might be expected to pay.

Such fellows are usually snobby towards those who may not associate in as high a grade of society as that with which they mingle.

This does not set well with those who pay their debts.

They don't like to be high-tailed by these social panhandlers and chisellers.

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 6:37. Sun rises tomorrow 5:25.

The great trouble these days is that a lot of bull throwing politicians are always telling the people what they should have, when they know perfectly well that the people cannot get those things. It makes the people feel better for a short time anyhow.

Wanting But Little Here
Below Never Got A Man
Much More Than He Expected.

Rudoe Valley's wife says he makes over $300,000 a year. This shows what crooning will do if you can make people listen to it.

SAID IT WITH POETRY
In a cemetery near Bangor, is a monument which bears the following inscription, the first verse having been written by the wife before her death and the second by the husband after he had married again:
"Weep not for me, my dearest dear;
I am not dead, but sleeping here;
Repent, my love, before you die,
For you must come and sleep with I."

"I will not weep, my dearest life,
For I have got another wife;
I cannot come and sleep with thee,
For I must go and sleep with she."

When the members of an African tribe wish to send a message to a departed soul they tell it to an unsuspecting messenger and then kill him. Nobody could blame the chap very much if he double-crossed 'em and didn't kick in with it.

HE MADE A GOOD BUY
This is one case where a flat purse did a man a good turn. A Frenchman was recently elected to the Academy of Moral and Political Sciences but lacking the $635 necessary for the purchase of a new uniform worn by the academicians finally secured a second hand one for $25.

As his wife was relining the uniform she found the original tailor's label as well as a list of the former famous owners of the suit. It had been designed by the painter David (1748-1825) and worn by Louis XVI in 1777. Its first wearer was not David, but his friend the sculptor Houdon, who is known in America for his bust of Washington.

The next two owners were the playwright Lemerclier and the writer, Victor Hugo.

This uniform which has outlived the French Revolution, the Empire, the Franco-Prussian war, and the World War is probably worth a great many times what the impoverished intellectual paid for it.

Why Not Have Two Presidents, One The People Want And Another Who Will Do Us More Good?

When a big hold-up is going on the spectators, for some reason or other very often don't notice the license tags on the cars used by the crooks. This may be because they are too badly scared—or sumpin'.

Boarding House Comedian—This turkey, Mrs. Prunewhip, was evidently hatched in an incubator. Mrs. Prunewhip—What makes you think so, Mr. Funnyboy?

Comedian—Because no turkey that had ever known a mother's tender care would ever have turned out as tough as this bird is.

Republicans are ungrateful. There is no monument to the unknown orator who got us primed for war.

Americanism: Sheepishly imitating the critics who sneer at old-fashioned virtues; wishing we could find a way to keep people from stealing.

The fellows who make a fortune overnight never go to bed early after that for fear they'll miss something.

KNOW ANY OLDER?
Mrs. H. O. Atkins, of Tulsa, Okla., owns a bed quilt which she claims was made by her ancestors 226 years ago and has been handed down to her through 13 generations.

The Sticks is a region where the grocer has nice fresh vegetables when the truck arrives from the city.

Some fellows are no more interesting than the other side of a phonograph record.

Man isn't so efficient. He can't steer a car and powder his nose and wave at a friend all at once.

Advertisement in a West Virginia paper as lamped by the Boston Transcript:
"Wanted—to buy tractor: also wench."

There is little that is new and therefore nothing striking in the statement of that physician who says men die between the ages of 45 and 60 because they overeat.

A long, long time ago a wise man said we dig our graves with our teeth.

The chap who is a "yes-man" downtown is usually a "yes, ma'am" at home.

People didn't wonder what to do with table scraps in the old days. They called the kids to the second table.

Government is like digestion. The better it works, the less you realize it is there.

Most Men Hate The Thought Of The Corset Coming Back Almost As Much As They Hate To Wear 'Em.

A hick town is a place where the junk on a vacant lot isn't charged for parking.

Senator Clark, of Missouri has introduced a bill for the cologne of a 2½ cent piece, one side of which is to have an impression "emblem of liberty."

What a fall was there, my countrymen! Our liberty, so dearly bought, now priced at 2½ cents.

What a world! Kill a bank robber and you get $5000; kill a racketeer who is robbing you and you get five years.

Jack—I could dance with you this way to heaven.
Jill—Don't you ever reverse?

Correct this sentence: "My weight, said the lady, 'just suits me.'"

PINCHING THE "PINHOOKER"
All tobacco growers should know what a "pinhooker" is—for their own protection. This animal was recently defined by a House Agriculture subcommittee as "a speculator who buys from the farmer at warehouse auctions at a low price holds the tobacco until he thinks the market is right and then sells the same floor at a neat profit."

Incidentally, the much discussed Flanagan bill for regulating warehouses would squeeze the chiseling "pinhooker" out of business.

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 6:37. Sun rises tomorrow 5:25.

The great trouble these days is that a lot of bull throwing politicians are always telling the people what they should have, when they know perfectly well that the people cannot get those things. It makes the people feel better for a short time anyhow.

SAID IT WITH POETRY

In a cemetery near Bangor, is a monument which bears the following inscription, the first verse having been written by the wife before her death and the second by the husband after he had married again:

"Weep not for me, my dearest dear;
I am not dead, but sleeping here.
Repent, my love, before you die,
For you must come and sleep with I."

"I will not weep, my dearest life.
For I have got another wife.
I cannot come and sleep with thee
For I must go and sleep with she."

HE MADE A GOOD BUY

This is one case where a flat purse did a man a good turn. A Frenchman was recently elected to the Academy of Moral and Political Sciences but lacking the $625 necessary for the purchase of a new uniform worn by the academicians finally secured a second hand one for $25.

As his wife was refining the uniform she found the original tailor's label as well as a list of the former famous owners of the suit. It had been designed by the painter David (1748-1825) and made by the court tailor of Louis XVI in 1777. Its first wearer was not David, but his friend the sculptor Houdon, who is known in America for his bust of Washington.

The next two owners were the playwright Lemerrier and the writer Victor Hugo.

This uniform which has outlived the French Revolution, the Empire, the Franco-Prussian war, and the World War is probably worth a great many times what the impoverished intellectual paid for it.

The World At A Glance

Readers Desire Steadier Hand
Would Have Washington "Think Clearer"
Victors Over General Johnson

By LESLIE EICHEL

Central Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—Newspaper readers indicate by their letters that some steady hand is needed at Washington—some steady hand and sound, straightforward thought.

These readers evince no desire to turn back the leaves to the "old age." They desire action, straight ahead, for their benefit.

They presumably do not heed cries, one way or another, of disaster. To the majority there already is disaster.

They want that fact known and acted upon.

Their criticism is twofold (if one reads aright):

1. That present policy is mainly one of political expediency.
2. That action is taken hastily and without sufficient thought on matters that affect millions of lives, and that action often is delayed on matters that require instant decision.

NRA REORGANIZATION

That the NRA will be drastically reorganized regardless of whether or not there is a dispute in its ranks has been apparent for some time.

Secretary of Labor Perkins and Donald Richberg for the end will be victors over General Johnson. The feeling is that General Johnson has served his purpose. Neither labor nor employers are satisfied with him now. That may not be his fault. Time merely moves on.

Of course, to liberals and democrats, with a small "d," General Johnson represents fascism. In the pinches to come, President Roosevelt must have liberal support. He no longer can count on conservative support.

Secretary Perkins and Richberg are hailed by labor, but naturally Big Business looks upon them as advance guards of the devil.

MORE STRINGENT

With General Johnson out of the NRA, or in a negative position, the Blue Eagle will become a very stern bird.

It will crack down with all its might.

Johnson is considered to have failed in his final stages because he did not crack down hard enough.

There should be no misunderstanding on that. The opinion is certain on that among the guiding hands of the administration.

The reason is clear. Unemployment is increasing as winter comes. Unless hours are shortened and wages increased there will be great put men to work. Higher wages are necessary to keep up with the higher cost of living.

The great fallacy (as Wall Street sees it) lies in the fundamental policy—the policy of debasing the dollar to raise prices, the policy of spending to prime the pump, the policy of cheapening credit until the basis is set for inflation on a huge scale.

It is true—Wall Street admits—that business men cannot obtain credit from private sources. But that, Wall Street feels, is because private capital fears to venture forth, in fact finds it downright unsafe to venture out.

MAY BE RIGHT COURSE?

One well-known British economist, G. D. H. Cole, writing two years ago, made this prophetic statement:

"The United States is simply not ripe for economic planning in any real sense; and any measures which it takes to bring about the restoration of its economic life will have to depend for the present far more on monetary manipulation and far less on the reorganization of the productive system or the corresponding measures required in Great Britain or other European countries."

"Fundamentally all that America needs in order to insure a resumption of progress is a sufficient willingness to raise the standard of life of her own people to a point adequate to absorb the immensely increased production of which both her industries and her agriculture are capable."

"She can, given an adequate determination to bring about this rise in purchasing power, at least temporarily reconstruct her economic life largely in independence of the rest of the world. But one indispensable condition of her doing this is that she should renounce her attempt the collection of tribute from countries from which she is not prepared to receive this tribute in the form of an excess of imports."

FURTHER VIEWS

Economist Cole says further: "America is at present tied to the rest of the world mainly by her creditor relationship, and to forego this would be to regain, for the time at least, her power to reorganize her shattered economic system. But even if this were done and a new wave of prosperity comparable to that preceding the great slump would follow, a new slump would before long arise unless effective measures were taken to prevent consumers' demand from lagging again behind the increase in productive capacity."

"In fact, America, if she wishes to insure her continued progress under capitalism, must find ways of correcting the inherent flaw in capitalism which causes it in times of prosperity to bring about fatal maldistribution of income."

"But can this be done? Can capitalism be so reorganized as to raise the standard of life as fast as productivity increases? No capitalist system in the world has ever yet shown that it can do so."

America may have ahead of her another tidal wave of prosperity under capitalism, there is even for her no way of escape from the inherent instability of capitalist institutions. Even the temporary restoration of prosperity depends on the adoption of measures which will go very seriously against the grain of American capitalism as it exists.

The revival of American prosperity under capitalism will certainly not come about by any mere effluxion of time, but only by the adoption of positive measures which directly or indirectly have been met."

The writer is no "red." He is a member of the economic advisory council to the British government, and a reader in economics in the University of Oxford—oftentimes spoken of as the leading university in the world. The passages quoted are from his "A Guide Through World Chaos."

TODAY Is The Day

By CLARK KINNAIRD Copyright 1934 Central Press

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 29TH

The World War Day-By-Day—

August 29th 1914—The House of Representatives passed a bill providing for creation of a federal bureau of war risk marine insurance.

U. S. shipping, like that of all neutral nations, was suffering from creeping paralysis.

In London a hitherto inconspicuous mining engineer named H. C. Hoover was busy as head of the American relief committee succoring fellow citizens caught in the war zone. Soon he will be feeding stricken Belgium, and later he will be good samaritan to half of Europe.

For the U. S. will pay before getting into the war, during the war and after it, and continue to pay.

The New York Stock Exchange was closed. A "gutter" market was operating for absolutely necessary liquidations. Members of the Exchange were allowed to send a list of securities to the committee on clearing houses giving the amounts for sale at closing prices on July 31 or better. This business was attaining considerable proportions. As every other stock market in the world had suspended, some bankers were of the opinion that in closing, the Exchange had forfeited an immediate opportunity to entrench New York as the financial capital of the world.

Mars was playing no favorites. In the west the Germans were the ravagers, in the east the Germans were the ravaged. Russians retreating from East Prussia left behind them such scenes as Germans were creating in Belgium. On both fronts there thousands of cases such as this:

"A little way out of the village of Somzee was a small farm inhabited by a young household, including three small children. Honest, courageous, and economical folk, they had lived season after season to pay by annual instalments for their property, which they had agreed to purchase some eight years ago. The last payment had just been made; the children were growing up; the little family was happy. But the Germans came. In a few minutes this hard-earned happiness was shattered. They seized everything, the few cows, the deer, beloved horse. They set fire to the farm, shot the farmer, and drove before them the poor widow with her four weeping and terrified children."

Germany, made innocuous on the sea by the defensive activity of her fleet, was being stripped of her overseas possessions.

On this date a New Zealand expeditionary force seized German Samoa where once the Kaiser's navy almost started a war with the United States.

Great Days—August 29th 30 B. C.—She had borne a son by Julius Caesar, with whom she was living when he was assassinated in Rome. She had borne three children by Mark Antony. Now, 39, the red-headed woman hoped to improve her fortune by union with Octavius. To please him, she promised to assassinate Antony.

She entered her lover into agreeing to die with

Farmers Collecting Billion And Quarter More Than Last Year

EUGENE J. CADOU
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Farmers of the nation collected nearly a billion and a quarter more dollars during the eleven months ended in June than the corresponding period prior to the beginning of new deal farm relief measures, Donald R. Richberg, director of the national emergency council, reported to President Roosevelt today.

Richberg, in his capacity as secretary of the administration's executive council, presented a report stoutly maintaining the beneficial effects of the agricultural adjustment administration, which has been a chief target of administration opponents.

Benefits Increase
The agricultural adjustment administration reports total farm income from grains, cotton, fruits and vegetables, meat animals, dairy products, and poultry, including rental benefit payments, from August, 1933, to June, 1934, was $5,083,000,000, as compared with $3,881,000,000 for 1932-1933 when there were no benefit payments or adjustment programs," the Richberg report declared.

The drought, however, will curtail agricultural income for the calendar year of 1934 to a gain of only 19 percent over the calendar year, 1933, Richberg estimated.

He cited rises in crop prices, but observed:
"A considerable part of this increase in prices in corn, wheat and cotton reflects short crops due to the drought."

"When both high prices and smaller sales are taken into account, farm income for the calendar year 1934 appears likely to exceed that for 1933 by about 19 percent. It leaves farm income still far below the levels of 1923-29."

Urges Reemployment

The federal official also underlined for President Roosevelt a section of his report which said that to fully restore the price relationship that existed before the World war and to give agriculture a greater share of the national income, "it is essential that there be more of a revival in industrial production and more extensive reemployment."

Prices of seven basic agricultural commodities in March, 1933, were 51 percent of their 1910-1914 level, but, including benefit payments, have risen this month to 116 percent of pre-war, Richberg declared. Of this latter percentage, 11 percent is represented by benefit payments, according to the report.

Richberg, however, pointed out that on Aug. 6, prices paid by farmers were estimated to be 122 percent of pre-war prices.

Dual Shooting In Warren, Ohio

One Man Slain And Brother Probably Fatally Wounded

WARREN, O., Aug. 29.—Three shots, fired from an automobile that sped into a downtown parking lot and on, last night brought instant death to one man and probable fatal wounds to the other, owner of the lot and brother of the slain man.

Less than an hour after the shooting, Warren police arrested a beer garden proprietor and his wife, with whom, they said, the victims had been drinking yesterday afternoon and in whose car, according to police, was found a revolver containing three shells.

Shot through the heart by one of the bullets, Charles Campbell, 43, of Tucson, Ariz., World war veteran and a brakeman for the Southern Pacific railroad, was dead when police arrived. Here on a visit, he was to have returned home at the end of this week.

Shot Through Neck
James Campbell, 39, who has sold automobiles and operated a garage and downtown parking lot for the last 12 years, was shot through the neck and in the chest. His condition was said by Riverside hospital physicians to be critical.

James Campbell, police said they had learned, spent this afternoon drinking with the beer parlor proprietor. About 5 o'clock James, the proprietor and his wife drove to the parking lot and picked up Charles Campbell and a nephew, Robert Marshall.

Dine At Restaurant
Traveling in two cars, the five went west to a Main avenue restaurant for dinner, after which Marshall returned to his home and the Campbells to their parking lot.

Soon after the Campbells had returned, the car drove into the parking lot, the gun blazed, and they fell. Witnesses, obtaining the license number of the car, told police that it contained a man and a woman. Police arrested the beer parlor proprietor as he drove into the driveway of his business establishment.

In addition to the weapon found in the car, police said nine cartridges were found on the man at the police station. The man and his wife were being held for investigation by Warren police tonight.

Both Campbells were unmarried.

Farmers Collecting Billion And Quarter More Than Last Year

EUGENE J. CADOU

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Farmers of the nation collected nearly a billion and a quarter more dollars during the eleven months ended in June than the corresponding period prior to the beginning of new deal farm relief measures, Donald R. Richberg, director of the national emergency council, reported to President Roosevelt today.

Richberg, in his capacity as secretary of the administration's executive council, presented a report stoutly maintaining the beneficial effects of the agricultural adjustment administration, which has been a chief target of administration opponents.

Benefits Increase
"The agricultural adjustment administration reports total farm income from grains, cotton, fruits and vegetables, meat animals, dairy products, and poultry, including rental benefit payments, from August, 1933, to June, 1934, was $5,083,000,000, as compared with $3,881,000,000 for 1933-1934 when there were no benefit payments or adjustment programs," the Richberg report declared.

The drought, however, will curtail agricultural income for the calendar year of 1934 to a gain of only 19 percent over the calendar year, 1933, Richberg estimated.

He cited rises in crop prices, but observed: "A considerable part of this increase in prices in corn, wheat and cotton reflects short crops due to the drought."

"When both high prices and smaller sales are taken into account, farm income for the calendar year 1934 appears likely to exceed that for 1933 by about 19 percent. It leaves farm income still far below the levels of 1923-29."

Urges Reemployment
The federal official also underlined for President Roosevelt a section of his report which said that to fully restore the price relationship that existed before the World war and to give agriculture a greater share of the national income, "It is essential that there be more of a revival in industrial production and more extensive reemployment."

Prices of seven basic agricultural commodities in March, 1933, were 51 percent of their 1910-1914 level, but, including benefit payments, have risen this month to 116 percent of pre-war, Richberg declared. Of this latter percentage, 11 percent is represented by benefit payments, according to the report.

Richberg, however, pointed out that on Aug. 6, prices paid by farmers were estimated to be 122 percent of pre-war prices.

SAYS NEW DEAL WILL LOSE IN PENNSYLVANIA

(International News Service)
NORRISTOWN, Pa., Aug. 29.—State Treasurer Charles A. Waters today was on record with the prediction that the voters of Pennsylvania will reject the New Deal's "planned economy and regimentation" in the forthcoming fall elections.

In a bitter attack aimed at the Democratic administration before a gathering of members of the Pennsylvania Protective Union here last night, Waters declared:
"We cannot hope for recovery under the leadership of men whose only experience of practical things comes from the classroom."
"I consider Undersecretary of Agriculture, Rexford G. Tugwell, merely a callow college professor."

met with an asp, as the often inaccurate Shakespeare says.

So passed Cleopatra Ptolemy, last of her family to rule Egypt. (Cleopatra was the title and name of all the queens of the Ptolemy dynasty.)

If Cleopatra's death had been caused by any serpent, it is likely the small viper would have been chosen rather than the large asp; but the story is disproved by her being found "without any mark of suspicion of poison on her body." Death from a serpent's bite could not have been mistaken, and her vanity (and woman's natural loathing of snakes) would not have allowed her to choose one which would have disgraced her in so fruitless a manner. So she did take poison.

August 29th 28 A. D.—The traditional date upon which Princess Salome caused John the Baptist to be beheaded because he would not return her love.

John, kinsman and forerunner of Jesus whom he baptised, had denounced the incestuous marriage of King Herod to his sister, Herodias, the mother of Salome. The princess, though married to Philip, sought to win the young and handsome preacher's affection. When he ignored her, she danced so passionately for the king that she won the right to have any wish granted, chose to order John's execution.

August 20th 1533—Largest ransom in history did not save a king from being killed by kidnapers. Atahualpa, Inca of Peru, was put to death by his Spanish abductors who broke their pledge after he had paid the equivalent of $15,000,000 in gold for his freedom.

The mightiest monarch in the western world before the invasion of the Spanish, he ruled a country with a high state of civilization. As he was being strangled, the Spanish gathered around, murmured devout prayers for the salvation of his soul, returned quickly to their pillage.

August 28th 1859—Edwin L. Drake gets the credit for the drilling, but "Billy" Smith did the work. At 69 1/2 feet the dark pool was struck. The first commercial oil well in the United States was "in." It didn't cause much excitement that day in Titusville, Pa., for not even Edwin L. Drake realized that this was the beginning of an era.

Of course, this was not the first discovery of oil. It was not even the first well. A Franciscan missionary, Father Joseph de la Roche d'Alion, in 1607 was shown an oil well near Cuba, Y. The Amerindians used petroleum long before Columbus time for medicinal purposes.

Notable Nativities—John Locke, b. 1632, English philosopher. He had an argument with friends concerning social and theological problems, decided that they should first settle what questions the human understanding was or was not fitted to deal with. So he spent the next 17 years evolving his classic Essay on Human Understanding. Oliver Wendell Holmes, b. 1809, Boston physician who was made famous at 48 by his, The Autocrat at the Breakfast Table, a volume of witty essays. As a practitioner he was not successful, for people were doubtful about the flippant youth who posted the following sign above his office door: "Small fevers gratefully received." Edmund Hoyle, b. 1769, gamemaker. "According to Hoyle."

Maurice Maeterlinck, b. 1862, Belgian

Wage Campaign For Prevention Of Accidents

Western Pennsylvania Safety Council Plans Three-Month Drive

MANY COUNTIES WILL CO-OPERATE

Alarmed by the mounting toll of highway accidents and the large number of injuries in industrial plants, at school and in the home, the Western Pennsylvania Safety Council, of which Captain William E. Rodgers of Bellevue is the president, announces a three-month intensive campaign to be known as "everybody's safety drive", during which time the public is urged to participate and carry on a relentless war on accidents.

Cities, boroughs and townships in 13 counties of western Pennsylvania are being organized for the drive, which begins September 1st and co-operating agencies include the various divisions of the state government at Harrisburg, schools, Chambers of Commerce, better traffic committee of Pittsburgh, boards of trade, automobile clubs, civic service and women's clubs, industries, utilities and various other interested organizations.

President Rodgers has appointed Carl B. Auel of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company general chairman of the drive. Mr. Auel is a former president of the National Safety Council.

Sixty-five district chairmen have been appointed to organize and direct the drive throughout the 13 counties and an executive committee, which will be announced shortly, is being formed to handle the work locally.

During the entire three months concentrated efforts will be made to reduce accidents on the highways, in industrial plants and in the homes, and a special drive will be made to lessen the number of injuries and fatalities among children traveling to and from school.

The Western Pennsylvania Safety Council is the local division of the National Safety Council, Chicago, and maintains headquarters in the First National Bank building, Pittsburgh. The council is distributing 10,000 home safety posters and in connection with the drive, copies of educational literature, requests for speakers, etc., may be had by communicating with the council.

AROUND CITY HALL

Police chronology for 24 hours ending at 3:30 p. m. August 28, seven arrests on charges as follows: fighting 2, suspicion 1, violating parking law 3, and drunkenness 1.

City of New Castle will welcome the money derived from liquor licenses here which has been turned over by County Treasurer William Pitts to City Treasurer Louis McCune and which will be placed in the general revenue fund. Six thousand, six hundred and fifty dollars constituted the amount. Last year about $10,000 was turned over to the city which shows there are not as many beer places as formerly.

B. F. Butler, director of streets, has confirmed the recent statement of City Engineer Harry Hoskins that owners of property which permit water to pour through spouts which do not reach the ground, will be asked to remedy the condition. A trough has been made in the center of the improved alleys for the purpose of carrying off the roof water. The spouts will have to be almost flush with the ground, according to Butler.

All of the tools which the city purchased for the GWA and RWD have been turned back to the possession of the city council. However, when the relief work is resumed next month it is certain the tools will be loaned to the RWD.

The police department is supposed to have 48 men. There are 43 on the rolls. Chief Haven has asked for two new patrolmen, providing the city does not want to buy two of about $800. He wants to put up the lights to protect school children at Home and South Mill street and at the West Side school. He believes the lights will afford the children a chance to cross these sections with safety.

During the last few days, milk concerns have complained that someone rather than the customer is getting their milk in different sections of the city, which brings to mind that when the police wanted to catch a criminal several years ago, some of the milk men disguised themselves as milk men, rode the wagons and success came to them. It is possible that they will again assume the same roles.

LOCAL SAILOR IS

At the expiration of his furlough, he will go to San Pedro, Calif., from whence his ship will go to the Seattle, Wash., navy yard to undergo repairs.

A free land is one where the citizens feel out of debt if he doesn't owe anybody but the government.

North Carolina ranks fourth in water power development, yet only six farms out of every thousand have electric motors.

Well defined movements are under way to get a complete registration of voters in New Castle this year. Not only will efforts be made to secure a full registration, but there will be an extra effort to get out the vote. It is a lamentable commentary on free government to say that a large percentage of the voters of the city did not take part in the spring primary. The stay-at-home vote was largely in the better residential wards.

The registration days in New Castle this year will be on September 15, 16 and 17.

Jury Commissioners George J. Forrest and B. Frank Thorne, and Sheriff Edward D. Pritchard, yesterday drew a jury for a session of common pleas court to begin on Monday, October 8. A jury will also be drawn for a term of common pleas, beginning on Monday, October 15.

The court house heating plant was first started yesterday morning for the first time this year. Fireman E. C. McCracken said that it was the first time that he had ever had to put fire under the boilers as early as August 28. Usually fire is not needed until the middle of September, and sometimes not until October.

County Treasurer William O. Pitts has received a consignment of 8000 hunting licenses for the year 1934. He was busy checking them today, but will be ready to issue them any time after today. The tags, which are made in the Western penitentiary, are a little late in arriving this year.

On Court House Hill

County Treasurer William R. Pitts yesterday paid fees collected on beer licenses to City Treasurer C. L. McCracken. The amount paid on retail licenses was $5,250, on wholesale, $1,125, and clubs, $276. Retail licenses cost $150, wholesale $75 and club, $25.

Letters testamentary in the estate of the late Hiram Holliday, have been issued to his son, Frank Holliday. The Holliday will case was contested in court, the result being that a will in which Frank Holliday was beneficiary, was probated.

The court house heating plant was first started yesterday morning for the first time this year. Fireman E. C. McCracken said that it was the first time that he had ever had to put fire under the boilers as early as August 28. Usually fire is not needed until the middle of September, and sometimes not until October.

Bartholomew Is Taken To Prison

Former W. & J. Physical Director Will Serve Three To Six Years Behind Bars

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Aug. 29.—George A. Bartholomew, former W. & J. physical director convicted of having slain George Thomas Manis, female impersonator, lost his identity Tuesday and became only a number—4279—on Western penitentiary records.

First-hand experiences of life behind gray-stoned prison walls were introduced to Bartholomew as the penitentiary gates swung open—then closed again against him for at least "three years and not more than six years" in the Manis murder.

As the prison gates yawned, Bartholomew, brought from Washington county jail under guard of Sheriff Fred W. Brady and a deputy, muttered morosely: "I'd like to be out in the open."

Wage Campaign For Prevention Of Accidents

Western Pennsylvania Safety Council Plans Three-Month Drive

MANY COUNTIES WILL CO-OPERATE

Alarmed by the mounting toll of highway accidents and the large number of injuries in industrial plants, at school and in the home, the Western Pennsylvania Safety Council, of which Captain William B. Rodgers of Bellevue is the president, announces a three-month intensive campaign to be known as "everybody's safety drive", during which time the public is urged to participate and carry on a relentless war on accidents.

Cities, boroughs and townships in 13 counties of western Pennsylvania are being organized for the drive, which begins September 1st and co-operating agencies include the various divisions of the state government at Harrisburg, schools, Chambers of Commerce, better traffic committee of Pittsburgh, boards of trade, automobile clubs, civic service and women's clubs, industries, utilities and various other interested organizations.

President Rodgers has appointed Carl B. Auel of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company general chairman of the drive. Mr. Auel is a former president of the National Safety Council.

Sixty-five district chairmen have been appointed to organize and direct the drive throughout the 13 counties and an executive committee, which will be announced shortly, is being formed to handle the work locally.

During the entire three months concentrated efforts will be made to reduce accidents on the highways, in industrial plants and in the homes, and a special drive will be made to lessen the number of injuries and fatalities among children traveling to and from school.

The Western Pennsylvania Safety Council is the local division of the National Safety Council, Chicago, and maintains headquarters in the First National Bank building, Pittsburgh. The council is distributing 10,000 community safety posters and 200,000 home safety posters in connection with the drive. Copies of educational literature, requests for speakers, etc., may be had by communicating with the council.

AROUND CITY HALL

Police chronology for 24 hours ending at 3:30 p. m. August 28, even arrests on charges as follows: fighting, 2, suspicion, 1, violating parking law 3, and drunkenness 1.

City of New Castle will welcome the money derived from liquor licenses here which has been turned over by County Treasurer William Cling to City Treasurer Louis McCann and which will be placed in the general revenue fund. Six thousand, six hundred and fifty dollars constituted the amount. Last year about $10,000 was turned over to the city which shows there are not as many beer places as formerly.

B. F. Butler, director of streets, has confirmed the recent statement of City Engineer Harry Hoskins that owners of property which permit water to pour through spouts which do not reach the ground, will be asked to remedy the condition. A trough has been made in the center of the improved alleys for the purpose of carrying off the roof water. The spouts will have to be almost flush with the ground, according to Butler.

All of the tools which the city purchased for the CWA and RWD have been turned back to the possession of the city council. However, when the relief work is resumed next month it is certain the tools will be loaned to the RWD.

The police department is supposed to have 48 men. There are 43 on the rolls. Chief Haven has asked for two new patrolmen, providing the city does not want to buy two traffic lights and a control at a cost of about $600. He wants to put up the lights to protect school children at Home and South Mill street and at the West Side school. He believes the lights will afford the children a chance to cross these sections with safety.

During the last few days, milk concerns have complained that someone rather than the customer is getting their milk in different sections of the city, which brings to mind that when the police wanted to catch a criminal several years ago some of their men disguised themselves as milk men, rode the wagons and success came to them. It is possible that they will again assume the same roles.

LOCAL SAILOR IS HOME ON FURLOUGH

Grant M. Stahlman, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Stahlman, of 232 Vine street, who is stationed on the U. S. S. New York, has arrived home on a leave of absence for seventeen days.

At the expiration of his furlough, he will go to San Pedro, Calif., from whence his ship will go to the Seattle, Wash., navy yard to undergo repairs.

A free land is one where the citizens feel out of debt if he doesn't owe anybody but the government.

Well defined movements are under way to get a complete registration of voters in New Castle this fall. Not only will efforts be made to secure a full registration, but there will be an extra effort to get out the vote. It is a lamentable commentary on free government to say that a large percentage of the voters of the city did not take part in the spring primary. The stay-at-home vote was largely in the better residential wards.

The registration days in New Castle this year will be on September

War Scare Story Strongly Denied

Story Credited To Vienna Newspaper Says War Clouds Gathering In Europe

JUGOSLAVIA AND GERMANY LINKED

(International News Service) LONDON, Aug. 29.—A sensational new "war scare" story, reporting Germany and Yugoslavia as conspiring against Italy and Austria, reached London through the medium of the Exchange Telegraph Company.

The story, credited to the Reichspost of Vienna, an official government publication, was immediately denied by a representative of one of the nations concerned, but nevertheless created keen interest here.

In brief, the story asserts that Germany and Yugoslavia intend to make war on Italy and then despoil Austria of considerable territory.

No Aspirations
The Exchange Telegraph immediately sought out Dr. Jettich, Yugoslavian foreign minister, who is visiting King Alexander at the royal palace at Belgrade, who had the following statement to make:

"I must deny the allegations and emphasize that we have no territorial aspirations whatever."

So far as details are concerned, the Exchange Telegraph said the Reichspost printed a considerable amount.

"Germany and Yugoslavia are determined to make war on Italy," the newspaper was quoted as saying, "with the object of Germany securing a large part of Carinthia and a fresh demarcation of the Yugoslavian boundary from the river Drau to the Power Tauern mountains."

Leon A. Lewis, 47, Ends Life, Convicted Of Misapplying Funds

(International News Service) PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 29.—Facing two years' imprisonment in the county jail for having misapplied funds of the bank which he once headed, Leon A. Lewis, 47, ended his life here today by swallowing poison.

The financier, formerly president of the Bank of Philadelphia & Trust company, was rushed to Jewish hospital from his home, where he drank the poison. He was pronounced dead upon arrival at the hospital.

Only yesterday Lewis' attorneys filed an appeal in the state supreme court from his conviction and sentence for misapplication of $9,000 of the bank's funds. ## "Listen, Stan...while I explain what Old Gold's throat-ease means" says Ollie Hardy to Stan Laurel

"Now, you take this cigarette, see?"

"Who—me?"

"Certainly—you! Now, that's an Old Gold cigarette—understand?"

"Uh huh."

"Be quiet and listen, will you? Now, Old Golds are made from pure tobacco, see? So naturally they not only taste better but they keep the throat free from irritation. Throat-ease is important to anybody!—especially to a celebrated screen artist such as . . . er . . ."

"Who—me?"

"Certainly—not! But you will be a happier smoker when your throat gets the thrill of 'smooth as satin' Old Golds."

Mr. Hardy might have put it this way, Mr. Laurel:—No better tobacco grows than is used in Old Gold. And it's pure. (No artificial flavoring.) That's why Old Golds are easy on THROAT AND NERVES.

Leon A. Lewis, 47, Ends Life, Convicted Of Misapplying Funds

(International News Service) PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 29.—Facing two years' imprisonment in the county jail for having misapplied funds of the bank which he once headed, Leon A. Lewis, 47, ended his life here today by swallowing poison.

The financier, formerly president of the Bank of Philadelphia & Trust company, was rushed to Jewish hospital from his home, where he drank the poison. He was pronounced dead upon arrival at the hospital.

Only yesterday Lewis' attorneys filed an appeal in the state supreme court from his conviction and sentence for misapplication of $9,000 of the bank's funds. ## SOUTH CAROLINA DRYS LEADING

"Listen, Stan... while I explain what Old Gold's throat-ease means" says Ollie Hardy to Stan Laurel

"Now, you take this cigarette, see?"

"Who—me?"

"Certainly—you! Now, that's an Old Gold cigarette—understand?"

"Uh huh."

"Be quiet and listen, will you? Now, Old Golds are made from pure tobacco, see? So naturally they not only taste better but they keep the throat free from irritation. Throat-ease is important to anybody!—especially to a celebrated screen artist such as . . ."

"Who—me?"

"Certainly—not! But you will be a happier smoker when your throat gets the thrill of 'smooth as satin' Old Golds."

War Scare Story Strongly Denied

JUGOSLAVIA AND GERMANY LINKED

(International News Service) LONDON, Aug. 29.—A sensational "war scare" story, reporting Germany and Yugoslavia as conspiring against Italy and Austria, reached London through the medium of the Exchange Telegraph Company.

The story, credited to the Reichspost of Vienna, an official government publication, was immediately denied by a representative of one of the nations concerned, but nevertheless created keen interest here.

In brief, the story asserts that Germany and Yugoslavia intend to make war on Italy and then despoil Austria of considerable territory.

No Aspirations
The Exchange Telegraph immediately sought out Dr. Jeltich, Yugoslavian foreign minister, who is visiting King Alexander at the royal palace at Belgrade, who had the following statement to make:

"I must deny the allegations and emphasize that we have no territorial aspirations whatever."
So far as details are concerned, the Exchange Telegraph said the Reichspost printed a considerable amount.

"Germany and Yugoslavia are determined to make war on Italy," the newspaper was quoted as saying, "with the object of Germany securing a large part of Carinthia and a fresh demarcation of the Yugoslavian boundary from the river Drau to the Power Tarn mountains."

Observations In 7th Ward

Gas masks form an important part of the equipment of the seventh ward fire department. They are kept neatly packed in metal boxes strapped to the fire engine and are ready for immediate use at any time. The masks are not needed very often but when they are, they are needed badly. The local firemen can call several instances when they were placed in use, and "earned their keep."

FAVOR CONTINUANCE OF FARM PROCESSING TAXES

Farm Spokesman Explains Attitude

SEEK SOME CHANGES IN AAA MACHINERY

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Principal farm organizations will back continuation of processing taxes under which hundreds of millions of dollars are raised to pay benefits to farmers, Chester H. Gray, legislative representative of the American Farm Bureau federation, said today.

Although Secretary of Agriculture Wallace and AAA officials have declared themselves in favor of processing taxes, a fight to end them is expected in the next session of congress.

Favor Continuation

"Farm organizations, in my opinion, will favor continuation of processing taxes," said Gray. "The prime reason for this is that the processing tax is the equalization fee we advocated 10 years ago in the McNary-Haugen bill, without which the present law would become simply a dole to agriculture."

The AAA has estimated processing tax benefits on principal crops in two years at $779,000,000, with the total to be swelled by taxes on lesser crops already in effect or to be proclaimed soon.

Revision of the AAA act, however, is expected to be asked by the American Farm Bureau federation and the National grange following annual meetings yet to be held.

Seek Revision

Three regional farm bureau conferences and mid-west heads of the National grange already have gone on record for simplification of the AAA machinery.

Proposals for organized farm groups may include:

1. Emphasis on the distribution of farm products instead of crop reduction, through licensing agreements, so that the farmer will get a bigger share of the consumer's dollar.

2. Government purchase of sub-marginal land and its retirement from production rather than permanent crop restriction on good land.
3. Authority for the secretary of agriculture to pay farmers for increasing production as well as cutting it. This proposal grows out of the drought.

A minimum of allotment contracts, with all of the complicated bureaucratic machinery involved to administer them.

Today

2 Things New; Yes, 3.
An Onion Worker's Family.
Can't Shoot Santa Claus.
Bless The Ozone Belt.
By ARTHUR BRISBANE

DAILY, EVERY NEWSPAPER should answer the question: "What's new?"

At Tampa, Fla., Ramon Perez, cigar maker, out of work, decided to die, took off his clothes, jumped into a colony of hornets, the sort that boys call yellow jackets. It was too late when his mother and the fire department arrived. He died, "every part of his body swelled to more than twice its normal size." That is new.

If in boyhood you have poked a hornet's nest with a long pole, or later ridden through a field of hornets' nests in California (this writer has done both), you can think of pleasant ways of suicide.

THEODORE DREISER, able writer, celebrating his sixty-third birthday yesterday said life is still interesting, but when it bores him he will leave. Asked "do you mean suicide?" he replied:

"Of course, why not. If I ever find life uninteresting, why stick around?"

This is new, for this age. In past ages suicide was generally approved, and very respectable. One very old Greek philosopher, who stumbled leaving his classroom, killed himself, disgusted. "Falling on your sword" once was all the fashion. It has died out. Now, with Daniel Webster, men say "suicide is confession," confession of guilt, cowardice, or something else unpleasant.

Mr. Dreiser will never commit suicide, for he will always find something interesting to do, and do it well. May he live 63 more years.

A NEW YORK FIRM making pocketbooks felt it couldn't afford NRA wages and working conditions in New York, moved its plant to Greenfield, Mass., where NRA conditions are less expensive.

The Regional Labor Board tells the firm:

"Runaway employers must be prevented from escaping their obligations to national recovery to a community where they can pay a lower wage."

That also is new in American industry.

Such a rule could have forbidden Pullman to build his town, the steel company to build Gary, Ind., or Ford to create Dearborn.

YOU READ ABOUT the "onion workers" strike in Ohio; strikers alleged to have bombed the home of the Mayor, citizens rising against strikers, beating their leader, ordering him to leave town.

All this for the majority is far away news, but when you see a photograph of a striker and his family sitting outside one of the miserable hovels from which strikers are evicted, the thing becomes real.

The man, young, looks old, his young wife looks older than he. Their eight children, five so small that they are held in the laps of the father and mother, or older brothers and sisters, are thin, rickety, barefooted, miserably dressed, underfed.

YOU HATE TO think of anything like "an attack on vested interests," but if there are many families of that sort, living in hovels with leaky roofs, with not enough to eat, no decent clothes to wear, the father and older children working for eight or ten cents an hour, to support a family of ten, you hope the strikers will win and that the "New Deal," if necessary, will help them.

THE "AMERICAN LIBERTY LEAGUE," organized to protect the beautiful old American dollar and "vested interests" from the "New Deal," expects former Gov. Al Smith to help.

Mr. John W. Davis, who also ran for President on the Democratic ticket, is said to be with the league "heart and soul."

Former Governor Smith's friends think he may be "too busy." The probability of beating President Roosevelt's party this fall was expressed well by a former Democratic cabinet member who is not a Roosevelt man:

"You can't shoot Santa Claus, you know, especially around Christmas."

This administration is, for tens of millions of Americans and hundreds of American cities, the greatest "Santa Claus" in all history.

IN CHICAGO, thanks to President Roosevelt, 14,000 public school teachers, and 4,000 civil service employees are paid twenty-six million dollars, unpaid in salary, an average of $1,444.44 for each of eighteen thousand.

How do you think they and their friends will vote at the coming election? Will they vote against the Democratic Roosevelt ticket? Chicago estimates that the spending of these twenty-six million dollars will move $100,000,000 of merchandise within three days.

Landlords are paid and spend the money with merchants, the merchants buy of manufacturers, the manufacturers buy raw materials, hire men, etc.

LEARN FROM Dr. Florence E. Meier, able lady scientist of the Smithsonian Institution, that you live miraculously protected from "eight killer rays."

The sun's "killer rays," all of them of the "ultra-violet" class, above the violet as it appears in our spectrum, bombard the earth incessantly, and would wipe human beings off the earth were it not for a thin layer of ozone, completely surrounding the earth, like an army belt, high up in our atmosphere. You might as well add to your nightly prayer:

"And bless that layer of ozone."

It keeps out or deadens the worst of the rays, as dark glasses keep the sun from hurting your eyes.

THE MOST DEADLY of the eight "killers" comes through in quantities just sufficient to render great service, without destroying us. It keeps down the growth of the "green algae," tiny one-celled plants that grow in streams. If the killer ray did not hold them back the algae would clog all the streams of the world, as the "water hyacinth" clogs streams in Florida.

Unrestricted, the algae would have caused the earth to be flooded, and human life here might have been impossible, limited to boats and high mountain tops.

On the other hand, it is fortunate for the earth, as we know it, that the algae were allowed to develop in moderation.

THESE RAYS are interestingly small, each varying in length between 2,000 and 3,000 "angstrom units."

An angstrom unit, as you know, is one ten millionth of a millimeter, and a millimeter is one thousandth part of a meter, so an angstrom is a short "unit."

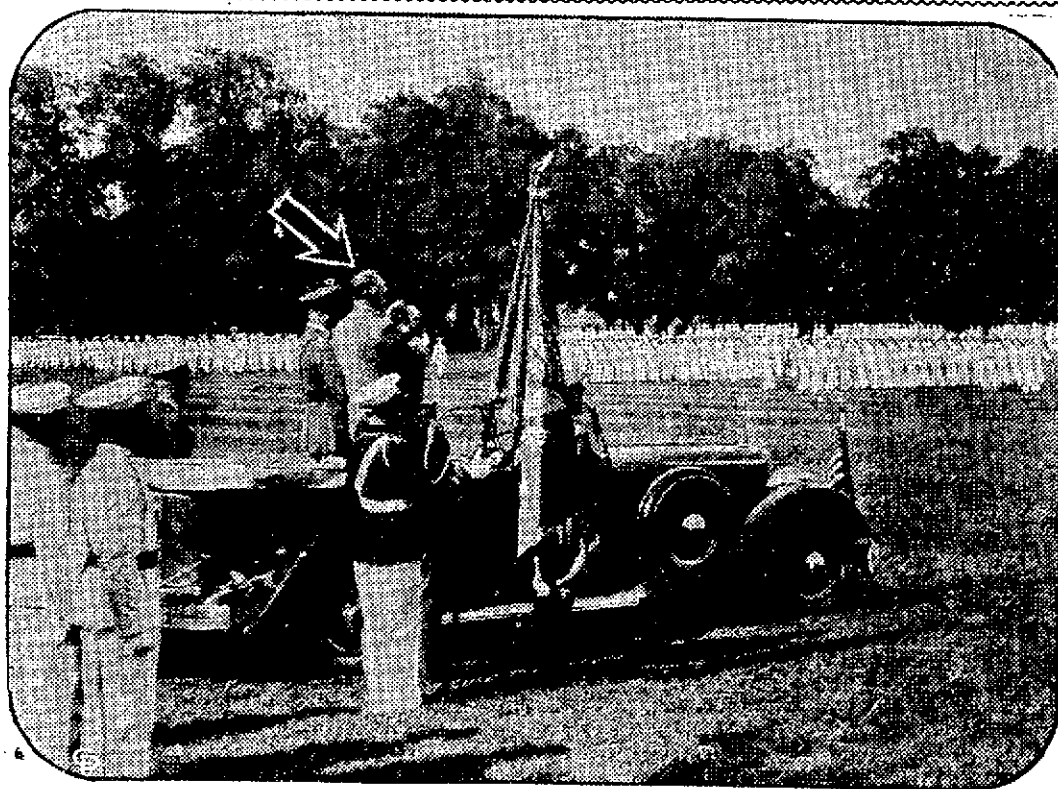

NEXT FRIDAY begins the month with an "R," and fish dealers are repainting their signs: "Oysters R In Season."

In New York city alone, ten thousand professional oyster openers gather for the month's work, much each for "an eight or ten barrel man," able to open six thousand oysters in eight hours.

Oysters should be plentiful, a female oyster lays millions of eggs each year.

One "opener" recently dead, had opened 50,000,000 oysters. The oyster is at its best between three and five years of age. Sometimes it is twelve inches long. Some one has said that the first man who ate a raw oyster was brave. Oysters are good for you, raw or cooked; plenty of vitamins in them.

COMMISSIONERS IN CONVENTION

(International News Service)
POTTSVILLE, Pa., Aug. 29.—The new relief plan to go into effect September 15 will provide jobs for all persons who want to work, delegates to the 48th annual convention of the Pennsylvania State association of county commissioners were assured today.

The convention was opened by Joseph P. Regan, of Erie county, president of the association. Commissioners Hubert Maynard, of Wyoming county, and John E. Ritchey, of Venango, attacked the present relief setup. Ritchey criticized transfer of the duties of administering relief from poor directors to the county relief boards.

Commissioners Rollo S. McCray, Erie; P. F. Hungville, McKean county, and John H. O'Neill, Washington county, were named to the resolutions committee.

President Says Dollar 'Profit' Use Is Far Off

By EDWARD B. LOCKETT
International News Service Staff

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Aug. 29.—President Roosevelt made it plain here today that use of the profit from devaluation of the dollar to cut down the public debt was a long way off.

Coming within 12 hours of Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau's announcement that this use would ultimately be made of the $2,600,000,000 "profit," the Presidential comment dissipated any impression that such action would come soon.

The executive regards the money as a sort of federal nest egg, it was made plain. Of course, eventually this money will be used. When it is it will be applied to the public debt to help in the big job of balancing the budget.

However, Mr. Roosevelt wants it clearly understood that the time for this use is far in the future.

The subject of eventual use of the gold "profits" was the first one on which the President touched at his semi-weekly press conference today.

All efforts to have the President discuss the projected textile strike or the action of cotton garment employers in resolving they would not obey the executive's order for higher wages and shorter hours, were unsuccessful. The executive is keeping in close touch with developments, but is reserving comment.

Norman Davis, America's ambassador-at-large in Europe, came to the President's house for lunch. Afterwards, the executive expected to hear a full report of the diplomat's latest trip abroad, where he felt out other nations in connection with future hoped-for international disarmament plans. Mrs. Davis was with the diplomat.

"Farm organizations, in my opinion, will favor continuation of processing taxes," said Gray. "The prime reason for this is that the processing tax is the equalization of the tax which was levied on the McNary-Haugen bill, without which the present law would become simply a dole to agriculture."

The AAA has estimated processing tax benefits on principal crops in two years at $79,000,000, with the total to be swelled by taxes on lesser crops already in effect or to be proclaimed soon.

Revision of the AAA act, however, is expected to be asked by the American Farm Bureau federation and the National Grange following annual meetings yet to be held.

Three regional farm bureau conferences and mid-west heads of the National Grange already have gone on record for simplification of the AAA machinery.

Proposals of organized farm groups may include:

1. Emphasis on the distribution of farm products instead of crop reduction, through licensing agreements, so that the farmer will get a bigger share of the consumer's dollar.

2. Government purchase of sub-marginal land and its retirement from production rather than permanent crop restriction on good land.

3. Authority for the secretary of agriculture to pay farmers for increasing production as well as cutting it.

4. A minimum of allotment contracts, with all of the complicated bureaucratic machinery involved to administer them.

FAVOR CONTINUANCE OF FARM PROCESSING TAXES

SEEK SOME CHANGES IN AAA MACHINERY

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Principal farm organizations will back continuation of processing taxes under which hundreds of millions of dollars are raised to pay benefits to farmers, Chester H. Gray, legislative representative of the American Farm Bureau federation, said today.

Although Secretary of Agriculture Wallace and AAA officials have declared themselves in favor of processing taxes, a fight to end them is expected in the next session of congress.

Favor Continuation
"Farm organizations, in my opinion, will favor continuation of processing taxes," said Gray. "The prime reason for this is that the processing tax is the equalization fee we advocated 10 years ago in the McNary-Haugen bill, without which the present law would become simply a dole to agriculture."

The AAA has estimated processing tax benefits on principal crops in two years at $779,000,000, with the total to be swelled by taxes on lesser crops already in effect or to be proclaimed soon.

DAILY, EVERY NEWSPAPER should answer the question:

"What's new?"
At Tampa, Fla., Ramon Perez, cigar maker, out of work, decided to die, took off his clothes, jumped into a colony of hornets, the sort that boys call yellow jackets. It was too late when his mother and the fire department arrived. He died, "every part of his body swelled to more than twice its normal size."

THE "AMERICAN LIBERTY LEAGUE," organized to protect the beautiful old American dollar and "vested interests" from the "New Deal" expects former Gov. Al Smith to help.

Mr. John W. Davis, who also ran for President on the Democratic ticket, is said to be with the league "heart and soul."

Former Governor Smith's friends think he may be "too busy."

The probability of beating President Roosevelt's party this fall was expressed well by a former Democratic cabinet member who is not a Roosevelt man:

"You can't shoot Santa Claus, you know, especially around Christmas."

This administration is, for tens of millions of Americans and hundreds of American cities, the greatest "Santa Claus" in all history.

IN CHICAGO, thanks to President Roosevelt, 14,000 public school teachers, and 4,000 civil service employees are paid twenty-six million dollars, unpaid arrears in salary, an average of $444.44 for each of eighteen thousand.

How do you think they and their friends will vote at the coming election? Will they vote against the Democratic Roosevelt ticket? Chicago estimates that the spending of those twenty-six million dollars will move $100,000,000 of merchandise within three days.

Landlords are paid and spend the money with merchants, the merchants buy of manufacturers, the manufacturers buy raw materials, hire men, etc.

LEARN FROM DR. FLORENCE E. MEIER, able young scientist of the Smithsonian Institution, that you live miraculously protected from "eight killer rays."

The sun's "killer rays," all of them of the "ultra-violet" class, above the violet as it appears in our spectrum, bombard the earth incessantly, and would wipe human beings off the earth were it not for a thin layer of ozone, completely surrounding the earth, like an army belt, high up in our atmosphere. You might as well add to your nightly prayer:

"And bless that layer of ozone."

Keeps out or deadens the worst of the rays, as dark glasses keep the sun from hurting your eyes.

THE MOST DEADLY of the eight "killers" comes through in quantities just sufficient to render germs, without destroying them. It keeps down the growth of the "green algae," tiny, one-celled plants that grow in streams. If that killer ray did not hold them back the algae would clog all the streams of the world, as the "water hyacinth" clogs streams in Florida.

Unrestricted, the algae would have clogged the earth to be flooded, and human life here might have been impossible, or limited to boats and high mountain tops.

On the other hand, it is fortunate for the earth, as we know it, that the algae were allowed to develop in moderation.

THESE RAYS are interestingly small, each varying in length between 2,000 and 3,000 "angstrom units."

An angstrom unit, as you know, is one ten millionth of a millimeter, and a millimeter is one thousandth part of a meter, so an angstrom is a short "unit."

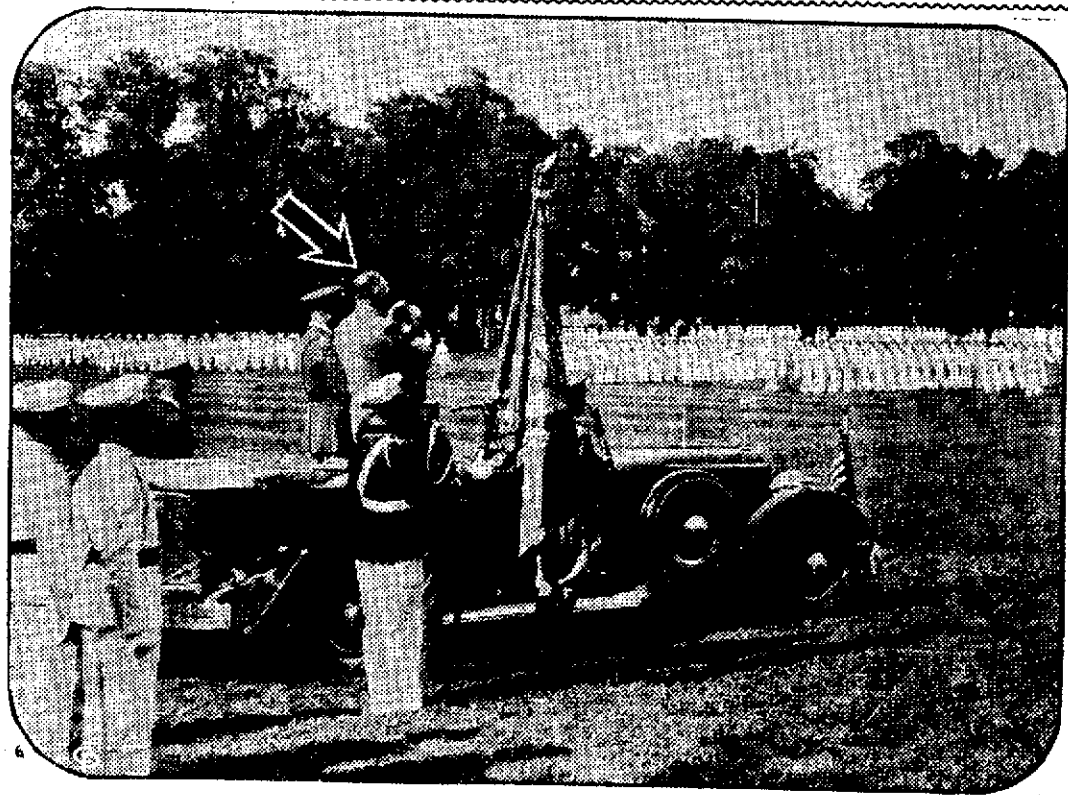

NEXT FRIDAY begins the month with an "R," and fish dealers are repainting their signs: "Oysters R. In Season."

In New York city alone, ten thousand and professional oyster openers gather for the season's work, must each be "an eight or ten barrel man," able to open six thousand oysters in eight hours.

Oysters should be plentiful, a female oyster lays millions of eggs each year.

One "opener" recently dead, had opened 30,000,000 oysters. The oyster is at its best between three and five years of age. Sometimes it is twelve inches long. Some have said that the first man who ate a raw oyster was brave. Oysters are good for you, raw or cooked; plenty of vitamins in them.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., Aug. 29.—The new relief plan to go into effect September 15 will provide jobs for all persons who want to work, delegates to the 48th annual convention of the Pennsylvania State association of county commissioners were assured today.

Replying to charges of politics and inefficiency flung at the state's relief administration, Edmund T. Anderson, director of the Schuylkill county emergency relief board, who appeared for Eric H. Biddle, state relief chief, outlined the purposes of the new relief plan.

The convention was opened by Joseph F. Regan, Erie county, president of the association.

The district superintendent, Dr. C. G. Parr, will preside. Annual reports will be given by the pastor, and the various organizations and societies within the church; officers and committees for the coming year will be elected, and other matters of business transacted.

The youth is accused of having shot his parent, Clark N. Witherup, 50, last December 9.

President Says Dollar 'Profit' Use Is Far Off

By EDWARD B. LOCKETT
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Aug. 29.—President Roosevelt made it plain here today that use of the profit from devaluation of the dollar to cut down the public debt was a long way off.

Coming within 12 hours of Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau's announcement that this use would ultimately be made of the $200,000,000 "profit," the Presidential comment dispelled any impression that such action would come soon.

The executive regards the money as a sort of federal nest egg, it was made plain. Of course, eventually this money will be used. When it is it will be applied to the public debt to help in the big job of balancing the budget.

However, Mr. Roosevelt wants it clearly understood that the time for this use is far in the future.

The subject of eventual use of the gold "profit" was the first one on which the President touched at his semi-weekly press conference today.

All efforts to have the President discuss the projected textile strike or the action of cotton garment employers in resolving they would not obey the executive's order for higher wages and shorter hours, were unsuccessful. The executive is keeping in close touch with developments, but is reserving comment.

Norman Davis, America's ambassador-at-large in Europe, came to the President's house for lunch. Afterwards, the executive expected to hear a full report of the diplomat's latest trip abroad, where he felt other nations in connection with future hoped-for international disarmament plans. Mrs. Davis was with the diplomat.

High Gridders Develop Speed

Head Coach Phil Bridenbaugh Stresses Speed And Quick Starting

HARVEY OKINEN REPORTS AT CAMP

New Castle high school football team this fall is going to feature a speedy attack. Quick starting is also being stressed in football camp, and it is expected that New Castle offensive attack this year will be stepped up several notches.

Head Coach Phil B. Bridenbaugh is developing a combination line that will prove to be the speediest hurricane of all. With a wealth of material to choose from, the starting team this year is going to be a strong one.

The two spring games gave the coaches a good idea of the material. The coaches are correcting the weaknesses that cropped out against Erie Academy and Farrell.

Jokinen Reports
Harvey Jokinen reported to camp yesterday, making 31 boys that are now encamped under the guidance of Major Domo Gardner.

Most of the boys reported in good shape this fall, and it will not be long until scrimmages can be held. The forward passing game has been taken on by Fleming, Ostrosky, Gopple and James so far, and the boys have shown an adeptness at handling the oval. Captain Walter Raskowski is the leading worker in camp and has been a splendid example for the rest of the squad.

The eats, under the supervision of Mrs. Helen Flood, have been fine and are ready on the "hot". The meals must be good, judging from the amount of "grub" that has been put away by the 31 hungry boys.

Stiff Workouts

Two more workouts are on tap for today, with the possibility that scrimmage will come Thursday and Friday. The boys are gradually losing those stiff, sore muscles and are rounding into shape nicely.

Another day or so will make a big difference in the development of the team. The boys have entered into the training camp idea with vim and vigor, and all of them seem determined to make the team.

Football Team To Hold Practice

Bubisco, Costi, Miller, Rigby, Carney, Hazinski, Dombuck, Coski, Griman, Perotti, DeCarbo, H. Frenkel and L. Frenkel will turn out for the team.

Max Baer Says He Was "Doped"

Tells Oakland, California, Citizens That He Was "Doped" Before Carnera Fight

(International News Service)
OAKLAND, Cal., Aug. 28.—Max Baer, heavyweight champion, caused considerable comment Tuesday among fight fans here after intimating he was "doped" before his fight with Primo Carnera for the championship.

Whether Baer, who is prone to kidding, was serious when he made his remarks could not be verified. He made the disclosure when talking about the party he arranged for his mother when she arrived in New York.

"I didn't feel much like greeting her when she arrived two days after the fight," he said, "because I still had a headache from the strychnine they gave me before I went into the ring."

LESSONS SHE LIKED
"Miss James is learning to ride a bicycle," said Freeman, with a wry smile.

"Really?" said his companion. "But she rode one last year. Why is she learning again?"
"Well, last year her brother taught her," explained Freeman, "but this year her brother's friend is doing it."

Kay won his way to the finals by staging an upset victory over the brilliant young golfer, George "Trainer" 1 up in 18 holes. If Kay hits the same score against Long that he did against Trainer he will give the popular Bill Long a tough battle.

Some of them—notably Schoolboy Rowe of the Tigers, Red Ruffing of the Yankees, Red Lucas of the Pirates and Wes Ferrell of the Red Sox—are good enough to see frequent service as pinch hitters. Only the other day, Wes won his own game, 3 to 2, with two home runs.

Of course, there are plenty of joke hitters among the throwers. The prize set-ups in this list are Johnny Broaca of the Yankees, who has accidentally made one hit in fifty times at bat, and big Jim Weaver of the Cubs who made his first and annual hit yesterday.

Jim's hit was just so much wasted effort but the one Ed Parmelee of the Giants made off Jim was far from wasted. That one was a homer and it was sufficient to win the ball game as it came when the score was tied one-3. The Giants eventually won, 3 to 1 and increased their lead over the Cubs to 5½ games.

Dutch Brandt of the Braves—another of the hard hitting pitchers—rimmed the Pirates, 5 to 3, the Braves settling the issue in the first inning against old Buryl Grimes.

Bob Grove Wins
Two other pitchers who are something better than a green pea at the plate, won games yesterday. Buck Newom of the Browns let the Senators down with three hits and shut them out, 4 to 0, and Lefty Grove kept the Indians' seven hits well spread to win, 8 to 2.

The Reds, who are staging a belated rush to get out of the cellar, strung three victories in a row for the first time this year when they took a loosely played affair from the Phils, 8 to 6.

Reds Win Two
Then, just to show their versatility, the teams hooked up in a great pitching duel between Euel Moore and Benny Frey, the latter winning in the ninth, 3 to 1, and giving the Reds four straight. If Charles Dressen isn't careful the Reds will get out of the cellar and the good batters out there will want to run him for president.

Ray Benge held the Cardinals to four hits while the Dodgers were making twice as many off the younger Walter Johnson, but the Dodgers lost, 2 to 0.

High Gridders Develop Speed

Head Coach Phil Bridenbaugh Stresses Speed And Quick Starting

HARVEY OKINEN REPORTS AT CAMP

New Castle high school football team this fall is going to feature a speedy attack. Quick starting is also being stressed in football camp, and it is expected that New Castle offensive attack this year will be stepped up several notches.

Head Coach Phil H. Bridenbaugh is developing a combination this fall that will prove to be the speediest hurricane of all. With a wealth of material to choose from, the starting team this year is going to be a strong one.

The two spring games gave the coaches a good idea of the material. The coaches are correcting the weaknesses that cropped out against Erie Academy and Farrell.

Harvey Jokinen reported to camp yesterday, making 31 boys that are now encamped under the guidance of Major Domo Gardner.

Most of the boys reported in good shape this fall, and it will not be long until scrimmages can be held. The forward passing jobs have fallen to Fleming, Ostrosky, Coppel and James so far, and the boys have shown an adeptness at handling the oval. Captain Walter Baskowski is the leading worker in camp and has been a splendid example for the rest of the squad.

The eats, under the supervision of Mrs. Helen Hood, have been fine and are ready on the "dot". The meals must be good, judging from the amount of "grub" that has been put away by the 31 hungry boys.

Stiff workouts.

Two more workouts are on tap for today, with the possibility that scrimmage will come Thursday and Friday. The boys are gradually losing those stiff, sore muscles and are rounding into shape nicely.

Another day or so will make a big difference in the development of the team. The boys have entered into the training camp idea with vim and vigor, and all of them seem determined to make the team.

Football Team To Hold Practice

Square Eleven football team will practice at 5:30 p. m. Thursday at the Shenando and Taylor townships school grounds. Champ, Dominick Mooney, Meltrout, D. Frenzel, J. Bubisco, P. Bubisco, Costi, Miller, Rigby, Carney, Hazinski, Dombuck, Coski, Grimm, Perott, DeCarbo, H. Frenzel and L. Frenzel will turn out for the team.

Every time this press revolves this Fall Hat news goes into another home.

About 12,000 hat racks will receive this news when you do... and a great majority won't give it the second thought.

We know it's early and we have no quarrel with the man who thinks it's too soon to think of Fall... we simply call attention to the fact that the father of our country was first in war, first in peace and probably first to throw away his old straw.

Wait until you see the shapes... then there'll be no waiting.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Mark Arie of Champaign, Ill., broke 197 of 200 targets at the American Trapshooting association grounds, winning from 34 state titleholders to become the champion of champions. It was just 25 years ago he paid $50.00 for a shotgun and tramped off to fame at the traps.

Governor Pinchot and governors of several other states have been invited to attend the middleweight titling bout between champion Vince Dundee and Teddy Yarosz at Pittsburgh, September 11. One of the former governors who will be present is ex-governor Fred Green of Michigan, who will accompany Floyd Fitzsimmons of Michigan to the bout.

Managers of the various teams in the Lawrence County Baseball league will meet tonight at the Sporting Goods store where all of the business for 1934 will be wiped from the slate, Bessemer having won the championship when they beat West Pittsburg in the five-game play-off. It was the best season the league has had. Not one protest was made during the season.

Having dropped the lightweight crown to Barney Ross, Tony Canzoneri, who was a fighting champion, will open a campaign to win the welterweight crown when he takes on Harry Dublinsky at Ebbetts field, Brooklyn, tonight. A victory might earn him a chance at either Jimmy McLarnin or Barney Ross. Dublinsky is one of the best welterweights in the game.

Max Baer Says He Was "Doped"

Tells Oakland, California, Citizens That He Was "Doped" Before Carnera Fight

(International News Service)
OAKLAND, Cal., Aug. 29.—Max Baer, heavyweight champion, caused considerable comment Tuesday among fight fans here after intimating he was "doped" before his fight with Primo Carnera for the championship.

Whether Baer, who is prone to kidding, was serious when he made his remarks could not be verified. He made the disclosure when talking about the party he arranged for his mother when she arrived in New York.

"I didn't feel much like greeting her when she arrived two days after the fight," he said, "because I still had a headache from the strychnine they gave me before I went into the ring."

LESSONS SHE LIKED
"Miss James is learning to ride a bicycle," said Freeman, with a wry smile.

"Really?" said his companion. "But she rode one last year. Why is she learning again?"

"Well, last year her brother taught her," explained Freeman, "but this year her brother's friend is doing it."

Kay And Long Play Thursday

First 18 Holes Of Field Club Championship Will Start At 1 P. M.

Charles "Chuck" Kay and William "Bill" Long are the finalists in the New Castle Field Club championship this year. The first 18 holes of the 36-hole playoff between these two brilliant young golfing stars will be held starting Thursday afternoon at one o'clock.

The second 18 holes of the championship match will be played Friday afternoon starting at one o'clock.

Indications are that a large gallery will follow these two youngsters as they seek the highest golfing honor that can be bestowed upon any Field Club member.

Kay won his way to the finals by staging an upset victory over the brilliant young golfer, George Trainor, 1 up in 18 holes. If Kay hits the same stride against Long that he did against Trainor he will give the popular Bill Long a tough battle.

Long won his way to the finals by taking the measure of E. E. Hughes, 2 and 1.

Navin, club secretary, announced that project will result in new box seats capable of accommodating 1,000 persons in addition to the permanent seating capacity of 29,000.

Ryantown took the first game of a five-game series for the Independent league title at the Clifton Flats field last night 7 to 2. Book was the winning pitcher and allowed seven hits. Coates was the losing pitcher and was touched for only five hits.

The leading batters of the game were J. Maher, Herno, Coughlin and F. VanEman, each hitting doubles.

The second game of the series will be played tonight at 5:15 o'clock at the Ryantown field. C. VanEman will go to the mound for the Flats and will be opposed by Hill of the Ryantowns. A great pitching duel is in prospect.

ROWE SEEKING HIS 17TH WIN IN SUCCESSION

Lynwood "Schoolboy" Rowe Will Try For Another Victory Over Athletics

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 29.—The given name is Lynwood Rowe but in the news columns of a nation it's Schoolboy Rowe because, it seems, he once went to school, thus distinguishing him from the rest of us. But that hardly matters. The important point is that he's going after his 17th straight victory and a new American league record at Shibe park this afternoon and it's a big story, bigger, somehow, than the 17 straight that Walter Johnson, Joe Wood and Lefty Grove tried to get but didn't.

Two other pitchers who are something better than a green pea at the plate, won games yesterday. Buck Newom of the Browns let the Senators down with three hits and shut them out, 4 to 0, and Lefty Grove kept the Indians' seven hits well spread to win, 8 to 2.

The Reds, who are staging a belated rush to get out of the cellar, strung three victories in a row for the first time this year when they took a loosely played affair from the Phils, 8 to 6.

Reds Win Two
Then, just to show their versatility, the teams hooked up in a great pitching duel between Euel Moore and Benny Frey, the latter winning in the ninth, 2 to 1, and giving the Reds four straight. If Charley Dressen isn't careful the Reds will get out of the cellar and the good burghers out there will want to run him for president.

Ray Benge held the Cardinals to four hits while the Dodgers were making twice as many off the younger of the Dean brothers, but the Dodgers lost 2 to 0.

Softball Game Is Called Off

Third Game Of Union-Scarazzo Series Will Be Played Friday At Centennial Field

The third game of the softball series between the Unions and Scarazzos will be played at Centennial Field at 5:30 o'clock Friday night, it was announced today by President Walther today. The game scheduled for Tuesday evening had to be postponed on account of wet grounds. The Scarazzos have won two games of the series to date and need but one more victory.

Trade Junior Team Victors

South Side Board of Trade junior tennis team was victorious over the Rigby court team in a match at the South Side courts. The score of the match was 3 to 2.

Singles.

"Beans" Balin defeated Harry Rigby 6-3.

Stanley Balin lost to Philip Ketz 6-1.

Doubles.
Al Jones and "Beans" Balin defeated Leroy Anderson and Harvey Ketz 6-4.

High Gridders Develop Speed

Head Coach Phil Bridenbaugh Stresses Speed And Quick Starting

HARVEY OKINEN REPORTS AT CAMP

New Castle high school football team this fall is going to feature a speedy attack. Quick starting is also being stressed in football camp, and it is expected that New Castle offensive attack this year will be stepped up several notches.

Head Coach Phil H. Bridenbaugh is developing a combination of this fall that will prove to be the speediest offensive attack. With a wealth of material to choose from, the starting team this year is going to be a strong one.

The two spring games gave the coaches a good idea of the material. The coaches are correcting the weaknesses that cropped out against Erie Academy and Farrell.

Harvey Okinen reported to camp yesterday, making 31 boys that are now camped under the guidance of Major Domo Gardner.

Most of the boys reported in good shape this fall, and it will not be long until scrimmages can be held. The forward passing jobs have fallen to Fleming, Ostrowsky, Coppel and James so far, and the boys have shown an adeptness at handling the oval. Captain Walter Raskowski is the leading worker in camp and has been a splendid example for the rest of the squad.

The ends, under the supervision of Mrs. Helen Hood, have been fine and are ready on the "dot." The meals must be good, judging from the amount of "grub" that has been put away by the 31 hungry boys.

Stiff workouts are on tap for today, with the possibility that scrimmages will come Thursday and Friday. The boys are gradually losing those stiff, sore muscles and are rounding into shape nicely.

Another day or so will make a big difference in the development of the team. The boys have entered into the training camp idea with vim and vigor, and all of them seem determined to make the team.

Football Team To Hold Practice

Square Eleven football team will practice at 5:30 p. m., Thursday on the Shenango and Taylor townships school grounds, Champ, Dominick, Mooney, Mettler, O. Fungel, J. Bubisco, P. Bubisco, Costi, Miller, Rigby, Carney, Hazinski, Dombuck, Cokki, Grimmer, Perotti, DeCarbo, H. Frenkel and L. Frenkel will turn out for the team.

Due to the absence from the city of Capt. George Tranter, of the New Castle Field Club, the match which was scheduled for Thursday afternoon at the Field Club course, has been postponed until September 7.

The Munny players are looking forward to the coming event with great expectation. They expect to duplicate their victory of last month, when they scored their first victory over the Field Club team in the history of the meetings between the two clubs.

Several other games are carded this week, many of which will be played Saturday and Sunday.

Herman "Hackett" Kennedy won the first match played in the Municipal championship tournament, now under way at the Munny course, when he eliminated Ted Woodrow.

The match was an interesting one and was hardfought, Kennedy being forced to an extra hole before he gained the advantage, as they were even at the end of the eighteen-hole match.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Mark Arle of Champaign, Ill., shooting ace yesterday at Vandalia, O., broke 187 of 200 targets at the American Trapshooting Association grounds, winning from 34 state titleholders to become the champion of champions. It was just 25 years ago he paid $50.00 for a shotgun and tramped off to fame at the traps.

One of the former governors who will be present is ex-governor Fred Green of Michigan, who will accompany Floyd Fitzsimons of Michigan to the bout.

Managers of the various teams in the Lawrence County Baseball league will meet tonight at the Sporting Goods store where all of the business for 1934 will be wiped from the slate. Bessmer having won the championship when they beat West Pittsburg in the five-game play-off. It was the best season the league has had. Not one protest was made during the season.

Having dropped the lightweight crown to Barney Ross, Tony Cannoneri, who was a fighting champion, will open a campaign to win the welterweight crown when he takes on Harry Dubinsky at Ebbets field, Brooklyn, tonight. ### MEXICO'S HOPE

By Jack Sords

FEATHERWEIGHT BOXER WHO IS BELIEVED BY HIS COUNTRYMEN TO BE THE GREATEST FIGHTER EVER TO BE TURNED OUT BY MEXICO

Charles "Chuck" Kay and William "Bill" Long are the finalists in the New Castle Field Club championship this year. The first 18 holes of the 36-hole playoff between these two brilliant young golfing stars will be held starting Thursday afternoon at one o'clock.

The second 18 holes of the championship match will be played Friday afternoon starting at one o'clock.

Indications are that a large gallery will follow these two youngsters as they seek the highest golfing honor that can be bestowed upon any Field Club member.

Kay won his way to the finals by staging an upset victory over the brilliant young golfer, George Trainer, 1 up in 18 holes. If Kay hits the same stride against Long that he did against Trainer he will win the popular Bill Long a tough battle.

Long won his way to the finals by taking the measure of E. E. Hughes, 2 and 1.

Curt Davis and Euel Moore have found the nucleus of the Philadelphia mound staff in their first major league season. Curt has won 16 games already so he has no difficulty chalking up 20 wins. Moore was a pretty good pitcher in the Texas league last year so Baltimore bought him. He was a winning pitcher for the tail-end Baltimore team, so the Phils, probably figuring they needed pitchers who could win on last place teams, purchased him.

Bill Dolanecy, the third of five graduates from the 1933 Columbus team, has been handling the pitchers like a veteran although only 22 years old. He has hit nine home runs and has a .325 batting average.

Dolph Camilli is the only first-year man performing at first base in the National League. Although considered an excellent prospect, the Cubs jumped at the chance to trade Dolph to the Phils for Don Hurst.

Lon Chiozza and Linus Frey came up from the Southern association. Chiozza has a .299 batting mark and is teaming up well with Dick Bartell as a keystone combination. Frey and Stanley Hack, the third baseman, were in the majors during the last month of the 1933 season. However, since Frey took part in only 34 games and Hack played in but 20, they are both eligible for this year's juvenile team.

The outfield of Koencke, Stainback, and Pool has a combined batting average of .318. Harlan Pool, built a la Hack Wilson, is the leading hitter on the Cincinnati team. Koencke has been hitting at a .332 pace with the Dodgers. Stainback is only 22 years old but has played in over half the games for Chicago.

HIGHLIGHTS OF HISTORY

AFTER THE "RESCUE"
FROM THE TAME BEAR JACK AND KIT RETRIEVED THEIR SCATTERED PACKS AND RIFLES AND WALKED WITH PRETTY, VIVACIOUS MOLLY MACDONALD AS FAR AS THE DOOR OF HER CABIN.....
"I HOPE I DIDN'T HURT YOUR FEELINGS BY LAUGHING AT YOU..."
"OH, THAT'S ALL RIGHT—I RECKON WE DID LOOK PURTY SILDY PERCHED UP IN THOSE TREES..."
"WON'T YA PLEASE CHANGE YA MIND, MISS, AN' LET US TAKE YA TO RUSSELL'S FORT—? IT AIN'T SAFE HERE! THE NEXT INJUN RAID MIGHT BE IN THIS DIRECTION..."
"NO, I CAN'T GO—! BUT DON'T WORRY, I'M A PIONEER'S DAUGHTER, USED TO DANGER, HARDSHIPS AND LONELINESS— IF THE INDIANS DO COME, THEY WON'T HARM ME..."
"I LOVE LONESOME VALLEY LIKE MY FATHER DID. HE WAS A WONDERFUL MAN! HE STRUGGLED SO HARD TO MAKE A HOME FOR ME HERE IN THE WILDERNESS. IT KILLED HIM. HE'S BURIED OVER YONDER IN THAT GROVE OF TREES. IF I ABANDONED THIS PLACE AND RAN AWAY, I'D FEEL SOMEHOW THAT I WAS DESERTING HIM!"
"IT'S MIGHTY SWEET OF YOU BOYS TO WANT TO HELP ME, BUT REALLY I'M IN NO WAY IN DANGER, AND IT'S QUITE USELESS FOR YOU TO STAY HERE AND TRY TO PERSUADE ME TO LEAVE."
"KIT AND ME'LL STAY AROUND A LITTLE LONGER ANYWAY—IF WE LEFT, AND ANYTHING DID HAPPEN TO YOU, I'D NEVER FORGIVE MYSELF."

URGENT CALL

In the past eight months the City Mission has been called upon to help some forty families with furniture.

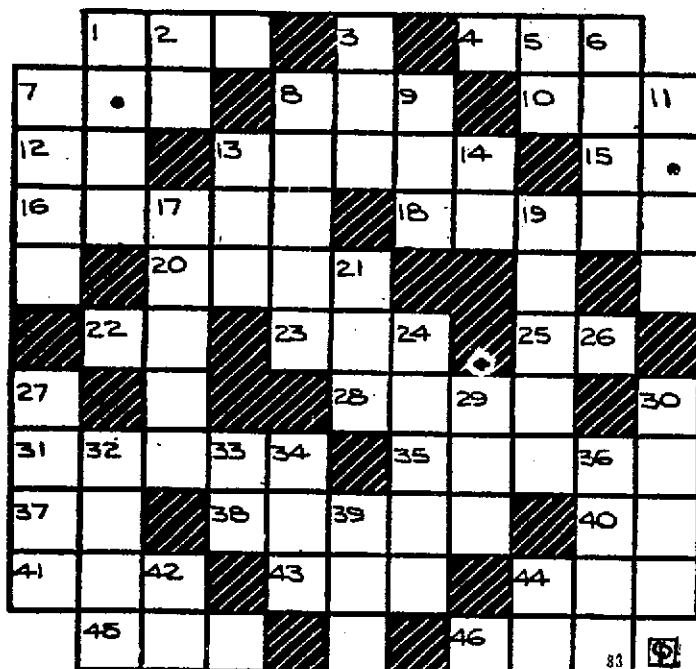

We have at this time several other families who are in need of furniture, some with large families and calls coming in each day.

The superintendent would appreciate it very much if you would take a little time to look over any furniture you may have stored away to help relieve this situation.

Furniture will be called for by the City Rescue Mission trucks, phone 430.

The City Rescue Mission is a member of the Community Chest.

Stock Market Is Improved

Fractional Gains Recorded At Start Of Market And Extend Into Forenoon

MOTOR SHARES ARE IN DEMAND

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—Stocks were moderately improved today as fractional gains came in evidence at the start and were extended somewhat during the forenoon.

Secretary of the Treasury Morant's speech over the radio last night found little concrete reflection in the stock market, but succeeded in firming government bonds a trifle.

Mail order shares were strong spots during the early trading today with both Montgomery Ward and Sears Roebuck up nearly a point. Farm equipments also were firmer. Industrials including United States Steel, Bethlehem and American developed a better tone after the opening and advanced slightly.

General Motors and Chrysler were in fair demand during the forenoon and were bid up from 1 1/2 to 2 points. Continued demand appeared for the liquor shares with American Commercial Alcohol and National Distillers the favorites.

An irregular price movement was apparent in the rails where New York Central, Lackawanna, and Chesapeake & Ohio advanced fractionally, while several other issues opened slightly lower.

Commodity Markets were strong with both wheat and cotton registering gains.

The Governor Says

What Is Going On
In Harrisburg—
And Why

By GIFFORD PINCHOT
Governor of Pennsylvania

SCHOOLS TO BE OPEN

Next week schools will reopen throughout Pennsylvania. Most of us take resumption of classes after Labor Day as a matter of course. But we shouldn't.

It would be a good thing if every one of us realized that it isn't just because of habit that our schools are going to open this fall.

They are opening because real estate taxpayers managed to scrape up the money to pay their school taxes; because the state government managed to provide more state-aid than ever before; because school teachers—in many districts—have given up part of their salaries; because there is an overwhelming sentiment among our people that—no matter what else happens—every child in Pennsylvania must have a chance to get a reasonable education.

Last year 175,000 were denied free schooling in the United States, but I am proud to say that not one of those was a Pennsylvania child. Last year approximately 2,000 schools in the United States were unable to keep open because of lack of funds. Not one of those schools was in Pennsylvania.

But, while we have come through thus far with flags flying, that does not mean that we can muddle along indefinitely under our present set-up. For our present system—as I have said very often—is basically wrong.

In the first place, I can see how real estate can go on carrying the entire cost—except for about $30-600,000 a year State-aid of our school system. I believe we should have a graduated state income tax for school purposes so that part of the tax on real estate can be lifted.

I also am convinced that we must have a more efficient administration of our school system, and that means consolidation of school districts, elimination of the fee system of collection taxes, and a state-wide equitable system of assessing real estate.

This fall, as our Pennsylvania schools go into their 101st year, it should be a matter of real satisfaction to every Pennsylvanian to know that even without the overhauling that our school system needs, it will continue to go after the educational needs of some 2,000,000 children—from kindergarten to high school.

It is up to the parents of these children to send to the legislature men and women who will not permit petty politics or any selfish interest to stand in the way of the permanent solution of our school problems.

So long as real estate values, and incomes from real estate, increased in proportion to the increasing demands for public instruction, everything seemed to be all right. But when real estate values went on the toboggan and real estate owners' incomes fell—while the demands for public instruction continued to increase—the whole system was in trouble.

Our high schools are a sample of the increasing load that the school system must carry. High school graduates are not finding jobs as fast as they are graduated by any means, with the result that many who are unable to go to college and would rather continue studying than be idle are taking additional courses in high school.

In addition, the NRA codes prohibiting child labor are properly keeping many children in school who would otherwise be working at least part time.

All this means a heavy burden on our schools and our teachers. And it makes all the more remarkable the fact that every school is opening on schedule this fall.

REPORT PLANT IS BEING LOOKED OVER
While no verification of the fact can be secured it has been stated repeatedly in the past few days that the old Standard Steel Plant is being investigated by a steel products company as a place to locate. It is said that a number of trips have been made by a group of officers of the company to look the plant over but nothing has been announced as to the outcome of the visit.

Rev. Sam Maitland Gets Letter Telling Of Heat In Kansas

Brother Minister Says It's Hot Enough To Cook Eggs And Proves It

Drouth conditions in Kansas this year are graphically outlined in a letter received by Rev. Samuel Maitland of this city, from his brother, Rev. T. F. Maitland, of Winfield, Kansas.

Among other things the writer says: "We have sure burned up this year. We had pretty good rains in the early spring, we had good early garden such as radishes, onions, lettuce and peas. We planted lots of beans expecting to can a lot, but we never got a mess, and corn and potatoes the same.

"The trees are dying and the grass don't look like it could ever grow again. Food for stock will be a serious proposition here this winter. When we read about your big rains back there it makes us long to hear the rain patter on the roof once more. We would love to listen to it for about two or three days, it would take that much to soak this ground. This has been the hottest spot in the U. S. this summer. It has been 115 right here at our house in the shade.

"We have often heard people speak about it being hot enough to cook eggs—we'll it did that right here on our ranch. The hen layed them beside a straw pile in the sun. I do not know how long they had been there. We took them into the house and broke them, and they were cooked just like they had been boiled in water. Now that's the truth."

PICNIC

Due to the ill-timed interference of Ole Jupe' Phivius, the annual picnic of the Volunteer Fire Company, was held in the school building rather than at the swimming pool as was originally planned.

The picnic was one of the most delightful in the history of the fire fighters' outings. Inability to have the affair outside proved to dampen the enthusiasm of those assembled not a whit, and a real time was enjoyed. Twenty dozen ears of golden corn were stewed away by those in attendance, and two luscious, steaming, roasted hams were made quick work of by the 100 at the affair.

Orchids to "Rosy" White, Bill Wilson, Walt Whitman, Harold Anderson, and William Gilliland for their untiring efforts in making the event the success it was.

ROTARY

Chief Haven, with one of his aides who is in charge of finger printing at New Castle, told New Wilmington Rotarians who gathered for their regular meeting on Monday night, how fingerprints of criminals were taken, stowed away and used for future use.

It was something new in the way of educational entertainment for the local club and was heartily appreciated by the assembled Rotarians.

Plans have virtually neared completion for the annual picnic of the Rotary club which is to be held on the Bedford-Pulaski highway near Deer Creek, on Labor Day. Rotary Anns and children will be special guests of the occasion.

Stock Market Is Improved

Fractional Gains Recorded At Start Of Market And Extend Into Forenoon

MOTOR SHARES ARE IN DEMAND

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—Stocks were moderately improved today as fractional gains came in evidence at the start and were extended somewhat during the forenoon.

Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau's speech over the radio last night found little concrete reflection in the stock market, but succeeded in firming government bonds a trifle.

Mail order shares were strong spots during the early trading today with both Montgomery Ward and Sears Roebuck up nearly a point. Farm equipments also were firmer. Industrials including United States Steel, Bethlehem and American developed a better tone after the opening and advanced slightly.

General Motors and Chrysler were in fair demand during the forenoon and were bid up from 1/4 to 1/2 point.

Continued demand appeared for the liquor shares with American Commercial Alcohol and National Distillers the favorites.

An irregular price movement was apparent in the rails where New York Central, Lackawanna, and Chesapeake & Ohio advanced fractionally, while several other issues opened slightly lower.

Commodity Markets were strong with both wheat and cotton registering gains.

The Governor Says

What Is Going On
In Harrisburg—
And Why

By GIFFORD PINCHOT
Governor of Pennsylvania

A graduated state income tax for school purposes so that part of the tax on real estate can be lifted. I also am convinced that we must have a more efficient administration of our school system, and that means consolidation of school districts, elimination of the fee system of collection taxes, and a state-wide equitable system of assessing real estate.

This fall, as our Pennsylvania schools go into their 101st year, it should be a matter of real satisfaction to every Pennsylvanian to know that even without the overhauling that our school system needs, it will continue to do "after the educational needs of some 2,000,000 children—from kindergarten to high school."

It is up to the parents of these children to send to the legislature men and women who will not permit petty politics or any selfish interest to stand in the way of the permanent solution of our school problems.

So long as real estate values, and incomes from real estate, increased in proportion to the increasing demands for public instruction, everything seemed to be all right. But when real estate values went on the toboggan and real estate owners' incomes fell—while the demands for public instruction continued to increase—the whole system was in trouble.

Our high schools are a sample of the increasing load that the school system must carry.

High school graduates are not finding jobs as fast as they are graduated by any means. With the so to college and would rather continue studying than be idle are taking additional courses in high school.

In addition, the NRA codes prohibiting child labor are properly keeping many children in school who would otherwise be working at least part time.

All this means a heavy burden on our schools and our teachers. And it makes all the more remarkable the fact that every school is opening on schedule this fall.

Rev. Sam Maitland Gets Letter Telling Of Heat In Kansas

Brother Minister Says It's Hot Enough To Cook Eggs And Proves It

Drought conditions in Kansas this year are graphically outlined in a letter received by Rev. Samuel Maitland of this city, from his brother, Rev. T. F. Maitland, of Winfield, Kansas.

Among other things the writer says:

"We have sure burned up this year. We had pretty good rains in the early spring, we had good early garden such as radishes, onions, lettuce and peas. We planted lots of beans expecting to can a lot, but we never got a mess, and corn and potatoes the same."

"The trees are dying and the grass don't look like it could ever grow again. Food for stock will be a serious proposition here this winter. When we read about your big rains back there it makes us long to hear the rain pitter on the roof once more. We would love to listen to it for about two or three days, it would take that much to soak this ground. This has been the hottest spot in the U. S. this summer. It has been 115 right here at our house in the shade."

"We have often heard people speak about it being hot enough to cook eggs—we'll it did that right here on our ranch. The hen layed them beside a straw pile in the sun. I do not know how long they had been there. We took them into the house and broke them, and they were cooked just like they had been boiled in water. Now that's the truth."

New Wilmington

PICNIC

Due to the ill-timed interference of Ole Jupp Plavins, the annual picnic of the Volunteer Fire Company, was held in the school building rather than at the swimming pool as was originally planned.

The picnic was one of the most delightful in the history of the fire fighters' outings. Inability to have the affair outside proved to dampen the enthusiasm of those assembled and a wet, and a real time was enjoyed. Twenty dozen ears of golden corn were stowed away by those in attendance, and two delicious, steaming, roasted hams were made quick work of by the 100 at the affair.

Orchids to "Rosy" White, Bill Wilson, Walt Whitman, Harold Anderson, and William Gilliland for their untiring efforts in making the event the success it was.

ROTARY

Chief Haven, with one of his aides who is in charge of finger printing at New Castle, told New Wilmington Rotarians who gathered for their regular meeting on Monday night, how fingerprints of criminals were taken, stowed away and used for future use. It was something new in the way of educational entertainment for the local club and was heartily appreciated by the assembled Rotarians.

Plans have virtually neared completion for the annual picnic of the Rotary club which is to be held on the Bedford-Pulaski highway near Deer Creek, on Labor Day. Rotary Annas and children will be special guests of the occasion.
